Cuba Raiders Say They'll Strike Again And Again

(Second in a series)

By JOHN RAYMOND
The Boston Traveler

Inside one of the apartments, on the second floor, you find a young man and his wife. In one corner of the living room is a television set; the bookcase contains an assortment of book club titles and a dozen paperbacks.

The furniture isn't paid for yet; neither is the new car in the driveway.

Hand grenades and 20-mm cannon shells are nestled cheek by jowl with bazookas and automatic rifles.

They are all part of the relentless and reckless war waged against Fidel Castro by Cuban exiles and members of a group called U.S. Freedom Fighters.

One of the 100-pound bombs, four feet long and 10 inches in diameter, was dropped by a freedom Fighters' twin-engined plane on an oil refinery in a Havana suburb a week ago today. It failed to explode.

The plane also dropped five home-made napalm fire bombs on the refinery. But these, too, failed to explode.

But Alexander I. Rorke Jr., head of the Freedom Fighters and one of the men on last week's abortive raid, is undismayed.

"We've got more bombs and we plan more attacks," he told me.

Rorke also disclosed that anti-Castro groups now have six jet fighter planes based in Guatemala at a secret air strip.

Guatemala's new military strongman, Col. Enrique Peralta Azurdia, has strong anti-Communist feelings and is openly sympathetic to rebels trying to oust the Red dictator.

There are 160,000 Cuban refugees in Miami, which normally has a population of one million. These have split into nearly 65 small groups, all dedicated to overthrowing the Castro regime. Some 15 of these appear to have strong financial backing, are highly organized and are now supplying arms to Cuban guerillas or conducting hit-run raids.

Closed Session—Reporters Ousted

By BRUCE COLEMAN

Two reporters were evicted from a meeting of the Mill Valley City Council last night by Police Officer John Castellani after being told the meeting would be an executive session to discuss "litigation."

They are this reporter and John G. Donhoff, executive editor of the Mill Valley Record.

By state law, according to the Ralph M. Brown Act, public governmental bodies cannot go into closed session unless to discuss hiring, firing or "to hear complaints or charges" against an employee.

"Mr. Coleman, you had better close your ears," Mayor Joseph E. Sheeks said at the close of the regular council meeting at about 11 p.m.

"We're going into executive session and we're not going to talk about hiring, firing or bringing charges. We're going to discuss litigation."

Councilman George Blackwell immediately chuckled and said, "It's a secret meeting."

"There are five of us and only one of you," Sheeks said. "Actually, there are eight counting the city attorney, city engineer, Mr. (A.E. Almcrants), (city manager) and Mr. (Harold) Soule, administrative assistant. (Four councilmen were present, Councilman Michael Wornum being absent.)

"I'm on his (Coleman's) side," Donhoff stated.

"Would you like me to read the Brown Act?" I asked the council. City Atty. Leland H. Jordan countered, "I'll have to have equal time."

The council and Jordan left the chambers through the back door and went into an adjoining room, the planning department office. Both Donhoff and I followed. Five persons in the audience remained in the chambers.

Jordan said "Newspapers

MAN DRIVES 90 MILES WITH BROKEN LEG

Under the heading of unusual accident report," the California Highway Patrol reported today that a San Francisco businessman broke his leg near Williams (Colusa County) yesterday and then drove about 90 miles to the Golden Gate Bridge before asking for help.

Officer I. D. Jump said Lawrence Panadtoni reported the accident at the toll plaza of the bridge.

Panadtoni said he had driven as far as he could after putting a splint on his leg following the accident on his ranch.

Jump offered to take him to a hospital but Panadtoni declined and the officer took him to his home.

Drakes Beach High On U.S. Purchase List

Federal purchase of Drakes Beach Estates is "high on the list of land acquisitions" for the Point Reyes National Seashore, project manager James E. Cole declared yesterday.

Cole described current developments in the national seashore project to the Marin Parks and Recreation Commission and county planning department officials meeting in the Civic Center.

He said the Department of Interior hopes to have seven million dollars before August for initial purchase of some of the seashore property, now under some 60 different owners.

Lands now planned for subdivision by the Drakes Beach Estates Corp. are among the first properties scheduled for purchase he said.

"We are being pressed to buy the estates, and some of the pressure is from the corporation itself," Cole added. "The corporation has to do something. It can't afford to sit still, and they have to sell the land to somebody.

"They have been the whipping boy in the whole controversy of seashore land purchase, and in the circumstances I think they have done very well."

Cole said many landowners on the Point Reyes Peninsula want to sell, and some are even "hard-pressed financially." The problem at the moment, he said, is not urging owners to sell land but to get money with which to make purchases.

"Until we get money, we're not able to do too much."

The first areas marked for public use development on the seashore include access to Point Reyes Beach on the east

Political Era Ends: Nixon Announces New York Move

RICHARD M. NIXON
Farewell to home state

By MORRIE LANDSBERG

SACRAMENTO (AP)—An era in California politics ended today with Richard M. Nixon's announced move from his home state.

The immediate effect of Nixon's decision to switch residence to New York was to remove him as a force in the once-predominant Republican party of California.

Nixon declared last November, after losing the governorship, that the California race was "my last campaign for public office."

However, speculation persisted that, as titular head of his party here, he would snap back into action when the time came to organize a California delegation to the 1964 Republican national convention.

"We'll miss him," said Assemblyman Houston I. Flourney, (R-Claremont), from an area that Nixon once represented in Congress.

Democratic Gov. Edmund G. Brown, who shattered Nixon's comeback effort in the 1962 gubernatorial race, wished him well in his New York law career.

Nixon's departure will formally close an era that brought high honors to California's big name Republicans before they began quarrelling among themselves.

Nixon rose from a young California congressman and senator to vice president and almost became president. Three-term Gov. Earl Warren ran for vice president in 1948, was boomed for president in 1952.

$1,030 Taken From Safe In Fairfax

Although the robbery was discovered at 7:30 a.m. Monday, Police Chief James Orr did not make the report available to the Independent-Journal until today.

He said the punched dial and pealed safe gave indications of a "real professional." He believes the burglary was done by just one man. The rear door of the office was kicked in, and crowbars, sledge hammers and drills were taken from the display room to work on the safe.

Employee George Catchell discovered the burglary when he reported for work.

Grand Jury Probing Fairfax Arrest Case

By ALTON S. BOCK

A Marin County Grand Jury investigation of "certain unusual aspects" of an arrest made three months ago by the Fairfax Police Department was called today by Dist. Atty. Roger P. Garety.

The jury this afternoon began hearing testimony of six Fairfax policemen and Chief James Orr in relation to the arrest Jan. 27 of Gordon Corson, 27, of Oakland on a charge of attempted burglary of Rubini's Restaurant in Fairfax.

"Certain unusual aspects of the arrest, including conflicting reports by the officers, prompted Chief Orr to request that this office assist him in the investigation," Garety said.

"As part of the investigation, the Grand Jury has been requested to hear testimony from the various persons involved in the arrest," the district attorney added.

The charge against Corson was dismissed April 19 in Marin Municipal Court because of insufficient evidence.

Since his arrest, two Fairfax police officers have submitted their resignations. Sgt. William Dooley resigned Feb. 15 and was appointed street superintendent by the Fairfax City Council. He was high scorer in an examination Jan. 19 for the superintendent's job at a monthly salary of $641.

Sgt. Lee A. Perry has resigned, effective May 15, saying he did not receive "just compensation for the odd work hours and occasional abuse from the public." He plans to go into private business.

Both men are among the persons called to testify at the investigation. Garety did not say whether the resignations were in any way connected with the "unusual aspects" of the arrest of Corson.

The district attorney emphasized that "at this time no accusations are being made against any person and no indictments are sought."

In addition to Orr, Dooley and Perry, persons called to testify included police officers Dee Carver, Dennis Lawrence, Paul Simpson and David Sturges; Donald Midyett, criminal investigator for the district attorney; and Corson himself.

Yank Team Scales Top Of Everest

KATMANDU, Nepal (AP)—Two members of the American expedition reached the summit of Mount Everest yesterday, a radio message from the base camp said today.

The two Americans, who were not immediately identified, followed the British in 1953 and the Swiss in 1956 in the conquest of the 29,028-foot summit of the world's highest mountain.

The message said they reached the top at 7:20 a.m. Greenwich Time.

The report confirmed that the expedition had climbed the final 1,300 feet and reached the summit on schedule. The base camp had expressed belief earlier that bad weather had delayed the climbers.

A break in radio communications held up word of the successful assault.

Latest news from the base camp yesterday was of bad weather on the mountain during the afternoon.

CHP Bill Passes

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Gov. Edmund G. Brown's bill to allow multi-colored highway patrol cars to catch speeders whisked through the Assembly today. The vote was 54-15.

Architect Survey Due Center's Second Phase

A preliminary architect's survey for the second phase of Civic Center construction was authorized by unanimous vote of county supervisors yesterday afternoon.

In the wake of prolonged discussion were left hanging questions of just how much the authorization covers, and how the estimated six - million - dollar outlay is to be financed.

Following the vote Supervisor William D. Fusselman confirmed that his vote had been "yes," but today he said he'd understood motion of Chairman Walter R. Castro had been limited to survey of space needs and costs after which there must be reference back to the board for further authorization.

Castro said he'd urged his colleagues to "get started now," and that he had moved "that survey be made immediately and we start off with it."

Official minutes, subject to board approval, will read that "the board directed that space needs be surveyed as part of the preliminary plans for the second stage of the Civic Center."

Administrator Alan Bruce pointed out that the basis contract of the Frank Lloyd Wright Foundation covers all phases of the Civic Center though periodic authorizations by the supervisors are required. Since the architect wasn't offered a lump sum but was to proceed on a presumption of 10 per cent fee on the overall undertaking, said Bruce, "it boils down to a tacit approval of some preliminary planning which would have to be part of

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Thalidomide Baby Operated On

William Webb Jr., 10 months old, was released yesterday from Harbor General Hospital after a series of operations.

Surgeons have placed his left arm, not as severely deformed as the right, in splints. They said the arm will remain in splints for two years after which they will decide whether an operation is necessary.

The boy is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Webb of Gardena.

Mrs. Kennedy Goes To Ballet

NEW YORK (AP)—Mrs. John F. Kennedy made an unscheduled appearance at the Metropolitan Opera House last night and watched a performance of the London Royal Ballet.

The Firfst Lady bowed and smiled as the audience applauded her entrance. She sat with Anthony Bliss, president of the Metropolitan Opera Association, and Lauder Greenway, a member of the Met's board of directors.

Cuba Sugar Harvest A Mess

HAVANA (UPI)—Acting Premier Raul Castro confessed to thousands of Cubans gathered for a May Day rally yesterday that Cuba has made a mess of this year's sugar harvest.

Sugar is Cuba's principal means of income, even now as used in barter trade with the Communist bloc, and Castro—substituting for his brother, Fidel, who is in Moscow—frankly admitted 20 per cent of the annual harvest still remains uncut.

Senate Passes Money Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate passed yesterday a $1,488,683,841 supplemental appropriations bill after overwhelmingly rejecting a Republican attempt to cut 200 million dollars job-making public works program.

Included in the bill is a rider providing for direct payment to the Philippine government of the 73 million dollars Congress voted last year for payment of damage claims growing out of World War II Japanese occupation of the islands.

The vote to keep the accelerated public works program at 450 million dollars was 60-26.

18 Pounds Of Triplets

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The family of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Cantalupo of South San Francisco was increased by three babies totaling 18 pounds yesterday in only six minutes.

Mrs. Cantalupo, who has two daughters, 6 and 2, gave birth to Anthony, 5 pounds, 8 ounces, John, 5 pounds, 6 ounces, and Marcella, 7 pounds, 2 and one-half ounces.

Mother and the triplets were reported in good condition at Kaiser Foundation Hospital.

Cantalupo, 30, a barber, admitted that he was "kind of shocked."

Equal Rights Move

SACRAMENTO (AP)—The Senate followed the Assembly's lead yesterday and adopted a resolution calling on Congress to enact a proposed "equal rights for women" amendment to the U.S. Constitution.

Graham For President?

DALLAS (UPI)—Billionaire H. L. Hunt said last night he would "not now commit myself as favoring anyone for president in 1964."

A Dallas newspaper said yesterday that Hunt is anxious to boom evangelist Billy Graham for the Republican presidential nomination in 1964. The Dallas Times Herald said leading Baptists in Dallas have confirmed that Hunt, who has sponsored conservative political activities for years, is "very much enamored" with the idea.

"Billy Graham is a good man, an able man, a great American and a fine patriot," he said. "However, Dr. Graham is not likely ambitious to obtain political office."

Red Chinese Ship Sinks In Mystery

TOKYO (UPI) — Maritime authorities sought today to unravel the mystery of a scuttled Communist Chinese freighter whose crew claimed the ship had been torpedoed three times by a submarine of unknown nationality in the Yellow Sea.

Japanese officials were skeptical that the 11,432-ton Leap Forward had been torpedoed. They said it was more likely the freighter rammed a rock or a reef. All crewmen were saved.

OLD MINE?

Military sources tended to discount the possibility the cargo vessel had struck a mine left over from World War II or the Korean War.

Japanese officials feared the sinking, reported early today, would mushroom into a major incident with the Communist regime in Peking. The Leap Forward was Red China's first home-built ocean going vessel and its first cargo ship scheduled to visit Japan.

The freighter, pride of Red China's merchant fleet, sank 167 miles west of Cheju Do, a large island off the southwest coast of Korea, en route from the Chinese port of Tsingtao to the southern Japanese port of Mojo.

CREW SAVED

The Japanese fishing trawler Itsuki Maru radioed it had picked up all 59 crewmen in three lifeboats. The sailors, using sign language, said they were hit in the engine room by three torpedoes and sank four hours later.

Adm. Masayoshi Nakayama, chief of staff of the Maritime Self-Defense Agency, said only the United States, Russia, Indonesia and Japan have submarines that might be operating in the area.

Japanese and U. S. officials said their navies had no submarines in the vicinity of the reported sinking.

In Taipei a spokesman for the Nationalist Chinese defense ministry said the Nationalist navy had no ships operating in the Yellow Sea, or East China Sea, at the time of the reported sinking. Nationalist China has no submarines.

"I am inclined to believe that it (the Leap Forward) made an error in navigation and grounded," commented Isamu Wada, head of the Japanese Martime Safety Agency.

Colorado Tax Cuts

DENVER (AP)—The Colorado Legislature approved a 15 per cent cut in personal income taxes this year, effective with the 1962 returns.

But a state official says 75,000 persons failed to take advantage of the cut.

"We are absolutely unable to explain it," said Harold Drake, deputy state director of revenue.

Drake said the 75,000 taxpayers will get refunds as soon as state auditors refigure their returns.

PRINCESS, PIG-TAILS AND PENGUIN

Princess Caroline, 6, her hair in bow-tied pig-tails, feeds a penguin in Philadelphia during a visit to the Aquarama, a marine theater. The penguin, Peppy, apparently was not hungry and refused the offer. New Repressions Feared In Haiti With OAS Pullout

PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti (AP) —Diplomats feared today that the departure from Haiti of an Inter-American investigating commission would be followed by new and bloody repression of President Francois Duvalier's political foes.

Concern also spread because Duvalier's regime had offered safe conduct out of the country for only 15 of 22 Haitians who took asylum in the Dominican Republic's Embassy during a weekend wave of terror. The Dominican government was expected to insist that all 22 be allowed to leave, prolonging the crisis between the two neighbors on the island of Hispaniola.

The six-nation mission from the Organization of American States planned to fly today to Santo Domingo, the Dominican capital, to discuss the question of the refugees with President Juan Bosch and continue its investigation.

Informed sources said the Haitian government was refusing to let alleged leaders of plots against Duvalier leave the country but was willing to allow those considered lesser conspirators to go.

Duvalier's government reportedly made a similar offer with regard to nearly 100 others who have taken refuge in the embassies of Brazil, Chile, Venezuela and Ecuador.

Duvalier raised the threat of new repressions in a speech last night to a rally of 10,000 supporters.

REPORT TO CONGRESS

Hoffa Would Extend Effort Of Teamsters Union Abroad

WASHINGTON (AP) — James R. Hoffa says he doesn't want to confine himself to the United States in his efforts to increase the effectiveness of the Teamsters Union.

He wants European unions to agree not to handle shipments that might affect a teamsters strike in return for a similar pledge by the teamsters, he told the House Merchant Marine Committee yesterday.

Hoffa made the comment in response to a question and did not elaborate on it. A Teamsters official said later no such agreements are being actively pursued at the moment.

It was a new role for Hoffa, who is usually defending himself or his union against some charge when he comes before a congressional committee. This time the committee just wanted to get his views on labor legislation. And it did.

On strikes—"Strikes aren't the worst thing in the world. They let off steam and bring about understanding. When management brings in scabs and breaks a strike you don't hear anyone calling for legislation. But as soon as a strike is successful everybody gets in the act."

On compulsory arbitration: "You can't make people do something they don't want to do. You can't contain the spirit of people by writing laws."

On cooling-off periods before a strike can be called: "They're of no value. We just use them to stimulate the men so they'll take the same action later. And we make the increases retroactive, anyway."

Hoffa read a prepared statement expressing the Teamsters Union's abhorrence of compulsory arbitration then was questioned at length by committee members.

Some of the exchanges:

Q. Do you have a complete belief in our free enterprise system?

A. One thousand per cent.

Q. Could the government run the trucks and railroads in an emergency?

A. I don't think they can run anything.

Q. Would you be influenced by public opinion in a long strike?

A. Not one way or the other.

Q. The rice millers say they lost 10 million dollars because of the dock strike last December and January. Is that an emergency?

A. Suppose some people lose money? What they want is a law that will let them continue to pay wages a man can't live on. And as soon as the growing season is over the workers are laid off. They suffer a lot more than the millers.

Q. Did you know that in New Orleans they had to get a court order to unload perishable cargo?

A. If they had spent as much time talking to the union they probably could have gotten an agreement to unload it. But that's not the way they do thing in New Orleans. You can always get a court order for anything anti-union there.

Q. What would you consider a national emergency?

A. A war. That's the only reason there should be no strikes.

Q. When does a strike affect the national economy?

A. The national economy's not involved in any strike, only in an industry. When Ford or General Motors change models and lay off thousands that affects the national economy more than any strike. Low wages affect the national economy, not strikes.

Q. Would you ever call a nationwide trucking strike?

A. Never, because we couldn't win it. We'd never strike more than half because we know the competitive nature of transportation. That's why we've been able to make our strikes work. Because we know this business.

Glenwood School May Get Head

Members of the San Rafael Board of Education, meeting in closed session last night, may have decided on a man to fill the job of principal of Glenwood School which will be completed early next year.

Supt. Bert C. Corona said today that the decision, if any, would not be made public at this time.

CUBA

—are the only group of Americans.

To help curb commando raids on Cuba, the U.S. has beefed up its ships and plane patrols in the Bahamas and the Florida Straits. These now include 16 patrol boats, four larger ships, 22 small craft and 18 planes.

"Are we supposed to just sit here and do nothing?" said a young Cuban whose group often works with the Freedom Fighters. As he talked, he was busily filling hand grenades with black powder.

Rorke, Jan Dorfman, an ex-Bostonian, and I left to meet Sid Hershman and take off for the Bahamas. Rorke said he wanted to check some guns hidden on one of the small, deserted keys about 50 miles southeast of Nassau in the vicinity of Exuma Sound.

"I think we'd better move the stuff before someone discovers it," Rorke said. "Too many British patrol boats nosing around here lately."

Our first stop was Bimini, a half-hour's flying time from West Palm Beach. Then we landed on a postage stamp air strip on tiny Norman's Cay, where Nassau police arrested 17 Cuban raiders on Rorke's boat, Violynn III.

Wrapped in canvas and buried just under the sandy surface were two more 100-pound bombs. "We'll leave those," Rorke said.

There was ammunition in metal U.S. Army containers, grease guns (small inexpensive machine guns) and BARS (automatic rifles). These were piled in the boat and transferred by plane and boat to another key.

"They'll be picked up within a week for delivery to Cuba," Rorke said.

The plan once again roared down the homemade runway of a key so small only a few aeronautical charts show it.

Seeking Councilman

The San Rafael Council will meet at noon tomorrow to try to beat a May 5 deadline for appointment of a city councilman to fill the vacancy created by resignation of David Menary Jr., who was elected city attorney on April 8.

After May 5 the appointment of a councilman would fall into the hands of the board of education, according to a provision in the city charter.

Proposed Larkspur Budget Has Huge 30-Cent Tax Hike

Larkspur councilmen last night were handed a proposed 1963-64 budget that calls for a whopping 30-cent tax increase.

The tentative budget of $460,719 was presented by City Mgr. Ronald E. Piper with the recommendation that $63,000 be cut out of it. Even with this cut, the budget would boost the city's tax rate from $1.94 to $2.24 per $100 of assessed valuation.

Piper's budget letter proposed one new tax and two tax increases. His program includes:

1. An added eight cent tax to support needed drainage system improvements.

2. A park and recreation tax of 10 cents, a 6-cent increase.

3. A 25 cent library tax, a 16-cent increase.

Piper said the park and recreation hike was needed to finance plans for a park, envisioned on the site of the county dump on Doherty Drive.

He urged the library tax hike to "provide a new library and enable city departments to move into the present library space" behind the city hall. Building a new library would be more practical than trying to remodel the present city hall building, said Piper.

As it stands the rough budget is 24 per cent higher than the 1963 budget, said Piper. He said the recommended $63,000 reduction would bring it down to a 7 per cent increase.

The current budget of $370,194 was submitted last June 20 and approved July 11. It brought an 18 cent per $100 of assessed valuation tax hike for most of Larkspur.

want to interpret the laws which protect their privileges which is in a manner most acceptable to them."

Donhoff and I refused to leave, and Sheeks ordered Almcrants to call the police. Castellani came up from the police station downstairs and escorted us out.

In about five minutes the councilmen returned to chambers, took their seats, and Sheeks asked if there was any further business to come before the council.

"Would you tell us what happened in the back room?" I asked.

"There was a discussion of litigation," Jordan responded. "Litigation actually in process. This is a matter which the attorney general has held the city attorney has a right to discuss with his client in executive session." Sheeks adjourned the meeting at 11:22 p.m.

Last Oct. 17 the Independent-Journal learned that the council had had several unannounced, closed meetings, some over lunch in San Francisco, with William R. Zion, governmental research consultant. One of the meetings, according to Mayor Sheeks, was to discuss findings of a survey probing into the city manager's duties and city administrative procedures.

NIXON

Gov. Goodwin J. Knight took over and had no trouble winning election to his own four-year term in 1954.

William F. Knowland was the Senate majority and then minority leader, stepping out to run unsuccessfully for governor in 1958. That was the year the Democrats captured control of the state.

In Oakland, Knowland said he would have no comment on Nixon's decision to leave the state.

Assembly Minority Leader Charles J. Conrad (R-Sherman Oaks), said:

"Mr. Nixon has brought honor and prestige to the state of California. I am sure he will lend his ability and counsel to the Republican Party in New York."

Assembly Speaker Jesse M. Unruh (D-Los Angeles), observed that maybe Nixon is looking ahead.

"New York may need a new governor," he said.

"We need his voice and experience as we approach the campaigns of 1964."

In New York, UPI reported Nixon did not meet with reporters, but sent an aide from his 40th floor suite in the Waldorf-Astoria Towers to the lobby to hand out the statement.

The aide said: "This is purely a legal matter and there will be no interview."

DRAKES

side of the peninsula, according to Cole.

He said the federal government is not eager to do extensive development at Drakes Beach at this time. "We'll want to give it a lot of consideration. I'm worried about the cliffs there. Something should be done to stop the constant scaling off of rocks, or somebody may be hurt someday," he said. The National Parks Service also will not be in a great hurry to acquire Drakes Beach from Marin County or Tomales Bay State Park from California. Cole said both areas now open to the public will be taken over by the seashore "only when the county and state are ready to give them up."

The man in charge of preparations for the first national seashore on the West Coast also made these comments:

Some land in the center of the seashore will remain unsold, restricted to ranch use or no use at all, thus creating a "doughnut hole" surrounded by public land.

Seashore development is a "new phase of recreation," and unlike national parks, facilities such as golf courses may not necessarily be "incompatible uses."

Appraisers and federal road engineers are now at work in the area, investigating land values and possible access routes to beaches.

Fishing and clam-digging will be allowed in the seashore area, under federal regulation.

OBITUARIES

Halvorsen Rites Held

Funeral services for retired ferry boat engineer Harry Halvorsen, a former resident of San Rafael, were held in San Jose Sunday. He was 74.

Halvorsen died in a San Jose hospital last Thursday as a result of a fall 10 days earlier. He was topping a redwood tree in the yard of his San Jose home when he fell, injuring his head.

Halvorsen, a native of Norway, lived in San Rafael several years, leaving in 1941 after most of the ferry boats had gone out of service.

He leaves his wife, Agnes of San Jose; three daughters, Mrs. Ada Robinson of Woodacre, Mrs. Helen Walton of San Rafael and Mrs. Juanita Buldenbrein of Vallejo, and eight grandchildren.

Services were handled by the Oak Hill Mortuary, San Jose.

MARY NUNES

Requiem Mass for Mary Luis Nunes, 61, of Petaluma, a former resident of Bolinas, will be held at St. Isabel's Church, Terra Linda, at 9 a.m. Saturday.

Mrs. Nunes, a native of the Azores, lived in Marin County about 30 years. She moved to Petaluma in 1946 upon the death of her husband, Antonio Nunes, a ranch hand.

Mrs. Nunes had been ill for about a year. She died in a Santa Rosa rest home Tuesday.

Survivors include a brother, Joseph Luis of Bolinas.

The funeral cortege will leave Keaton's Mortuary at 8:45 a.m. Saturday. Rosary will be at the mortuary at 8 p.m. tomorrow. Burial will be at Mount Olivet Cemetery, San Rafael.

RUBY QUILITCH

Ruby Quilitch, a resident of San Rafael for 18 years, died in a Stockton hospital today after a long illness.

Mrs. Quilitch, 78, was a native of Mendocino County and had lived in California all her life. She moved to Stockton two and a half years ago after the death of her husband, Edward Quilitch. She was a member of the Christian Science Church of San Rafael.

She leaves two sons by a former marriage, John L. Sullivan of Stockton and Charles H. Sullivan of Napa, and two grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at 10:30 a.m. Monday at the Martin Funeral Home, 445 North American Street, Stockton.

Hearing Set On Felon Appeals

BULLETIN

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Charles Golston, 21, one of the four men sentenced to die tomorrow in San Quentin Prison's gas chamber, was granted a stay of execution today.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A hearing was set for this afternoon in the U.S. Court of Appeals on the appeal of three condemned men who, with a fourth, are under sentence to die tomorrow in the Gas Chamber at San Quentin prison.

Earlier the three lost an appeal to the U.S. District Court.

It was filed by Seymour Ellison, San Francisco attorney, on behalf of John Vlahovich, 32; Donald Franklin, 35, and Joseph Rosoto, 39, convicted as partners in the slaying of Leslie J. Simpson, Anaheim tavern owner.

MOUNT TAMALPAIS CEMETERY Marin's Peaceful Place of final rest

The beauty of this setting is guarded, too, by an ever-growing endowment fund which guarantees the care of this property in the years ahead.

Perhaps—like many Marin families—you will want to consider the advantages of making final arrangements at Mount Tamalpais now. This thoughtfulness can spare loved ones difficult decisions in time of sorrow. We invite your visit, or suggest that you write for our brochure which explains our facilities.

Mount Tamalpais CEMETERY

At the west end of Fifth Avenue, San Rafael...only a short drive from any part of Marin County. Telephone GLenwood 4-3166

A great many homeowners in Marin County take pride in and enjoy their homes. Along about Spring they plan a few improvements, and like most of us need a few dollars extra to do the job right. We can make it possible with our Home Improvement Loans; and when it comes to repaying, we make it practical and easier to finance the whole thing. How about dropping in to see The Bank that knows Marin. Perhaps we can help you with your home improvement plans.

Management, Labor, Religion Meetings Set

Hub Seminary Will Be Host For Seminar

Thirty-six representatives of labor, management and religion will meet at San Francisco Theological Seminary in San Anselmo May 9 for a three-day seminar on "Channeling Corporate Power in the Public Interest."

The seminar is sponsored by the Religion and Labor Council of America, a Washington, D.C., organization. Local arrangements have been made by the seminary's Institute of Ethics and Society, headed by Dr. Robert Lee, Margaret S. Dollar, professor of Christian social ethics.

NAMES UNKNOWN

Names of the 36 persons who will participate are unknown to the local arrangements committee, it was reported today, although speakers have been announced.

The seminary will open May 9 at 8 p.m. with a paper on "Economic Concentration and Its Social and Ethical Consequences" by Dr. Frank Kottke, professor of economics at Washington State University. This will be commented upon by Dr. Theodore Kreps, professor emeritus of business administration at Stanford University.

THREE AREAS

Three sessions on Friday will be opened with responses from persons representing labor, management and religion. Don Vial, economist in the San Francisco regional office of AFL-CIO, has been named to respond for labor; and Dr. Albert Rasmussen, professor of Christian ethics at Pacific School of Religion, to respond for religion.

A concluding panel will discuss what social policies or institutional innovations are feasible to channel corporate power in the public interest. Named as speakers on it are Wallace Howland, assistant state attorney general, and Louis Kelso, San Francisco attorney.

The seminar will not be public.

Oils, Sand Castings Now Being Shown

An exhibit of oils and sand castings is being shown this month at the Creative Arts Gallery at 22 El Portal, Sausalito.

Oils are by Phil Dizick, Sausalito artist, and Sand castings (also called scultpured wall hangings) are by Connie Lewis of Tamalpais Valley.

50 HAPPY FAMILIES

SAN RAFAEL—Fifty happy families now own and live in Ka Ha-Le Manor and Ha Le Kai, a condominium plan apartment near San Rafael's canal.

They have their own swimming pool, putting green, Sauna Finnish baths, shuffleboard, horse shoes, recreation room and barbecue area. They also have their own gardener and no painting, watering or maintaining to do.

At Ka Ha-Le Manor you may choose from one, two or three bedrooms with one, one and a half or two baths. You'll find spacious interiors, wall-to-wall carpeting and luxurious draperies, phone intercom to lobby, large decks, elevators, thermostatically controlled heat in each room. There is a central laundry room and central TV reception system.

There are still 41 apartment-home units available starting at $18,800. You can trade in your present home or property; there is special financing available.

Ka Ha-Le Manor is open daily from 1 to 6 p.m. and 12 to 6 on Saturdays and Sundays. For information call Scott Chandler, 803 Third St., San Rafael, Phone 453-3120. (Adv.)

Birth Control Measure Seems Doomed

SACRAMENTO (AP) — An informal poll indicated today that a birth control resolution pending before the legislature is doomed.

The measure, by Sen. Alvin C. Weingand (D-Santa Barbara) would permit the State Department of Public Health to provide "family planning services" in cooperation with local health agencies.

It is set for hearing a week from today before the seven-man Senate Public Health and Safety Committee, headed by Sen. Walter W. Stiern (D-Bakersfield).

The measure needs four votes to get out of committee.

Three members told a reporter their vote could go either way but four indicated opposition—based largely on religions.

While Sen. Frank S. Petersen (D-Ukiah) is the committee's only Roman Catholic member, two others noted a heavy Catholic vote in their districts. The fourth said he's against the measure because "I respect other people's religion."

Weingand, mindful of heavy opposition from the outset, said he won't be satisfied with an interim study. He remained optimistic.

'I'm hoping to win my case at the hearing," he said.

Stiern promised a "long, fair and probably heated" hearing and Sen. Vernon L. Sturgeon (R-San Luis Obispo) thinks it might be a good idea to televise it.

"This is one issue that everybody's interested in," he said.

Weingand a Protestant, views the state's role in a birth control program as one way to slice mounting welfare costs, especially in the Aid to Needy Children program where the illegitimate birth rate is reflected.

His resolution asks that "the legislature go on record as stating that family planning services should be included as a regular part of an adequate health care program . . ."

Senate Passes Racing Extension —$7 Million Sure Thing For State

SACRAMENTO (AP)—The Senate has passed a bill to allow 76 more afternoons of horse racing—touted as a seven-million-dollar sure thing for the state.

A 24-8 vote yesterday sent the bill by Sen. Hugh M. Burns (D-Fresno) to the Assembly.

Both houses passed a similar bill in 1961, but it was pocket vetoed by Gov. Edmund G. Brown. Brown says he is now "neither for nor against it."

The measure would increase the maximum number of thorough-bred racing days each year from 269 to 320, with 165 allotted to Southern California and 155 to the north.

Harness racing days could be increased from 100 to 125, with 63 in the south and 62 in the north.

In addition, the bill would end the system of allotting days on the basis of county populations, making it strictly a north-south split.

Burns said one effect of the bill would be to prevent the Horse Racing Board from reducing the number of days allotted to any present track, except for disciplinary reasons.

Senators Clark L. Bradley (R-San Jose) and John A. Murdy Jr. (R-Santa Ana) charged that the bill would grant a monopoly to the existing thoroughbred tracks—Santa Anita, Hollywood, Del Mar, Golden Gate, Tanforan and Bay Meadows.

The average California farm is about 371 acres.

Rec Chief's Job Is 'Clear As Mud'

The role of Marin County's new parks and recreation director in recreation programs for senior citizens, as laid down by the board of supervisors, was as "clear as mud" yesterday to county parks and recreation commissioners.

After hearing the board's agreement with the Marin Council of Community Services for handling of senior citizen programs, commissioner Gibbs H. Lawson said "it's as clear as mud to me. Is it our duty as a parks and recreation commission to be responsible for these programs, or is our director a catch-all?"

Parks and recreation director Kelvin J. Nelson, who will help "coordinate" senior activities, according to the agreement, assured the commission he could handle the problem and it would "all work out."

"What is the definition of Kelvin's role?" asked commissioner James M. Fletcher.

Nelson said he is only to assist the council in a search for housing for a senior recreation center and "evaluate their program in terms of recreation."

Before the hiring of Nelson, the commission had expressed concern about ever-changing board plans for putting the "senior citizen problem" in the hands of the county recreation director.

The commissioners also took a dim view yesterday of a trimmed parks and recreation budget as reported by asst. county administrator John F. Barrows.

Barrows said his office had reduced a request for $20,000 for future park site purchases to $16,600 for the next fiscal year.

"We had pared our request down to the bone, and now we have it thrown back in our face," said Lawson, "I think we've been slightly sold down the river."

Barrows said the budget would still be reviewed by the board, and the commission would have a chance to voice its opinions then.

The commission also:

1. Heard a report from Nelson on his activities during his first month on the job, including a personal tour of county parks, meetings with state and county officials, chambers of commerce and a study of proposed legislation affecting recreation.

2. Discussed a tentative program for a special discussion of outdoor recreation to be held June 5 at 8 p.m. in the Civic Center.

3. Named chairman Helen Newman as representative to the new Marin Conservation Council, a group proposed by the Marin Rod and Gun Club to coordinate county conservation work.

4. Adjourned until May 22 at 1 p.m. in the Civic Center.

Benefits Top $758,000 Here

Social Security and disability insurance paid to Marin residents top $758,000 a month, according to Charles H. Shreve, district manager of Social Security in San Francisco.

Shreve said some 10,359 Marinites collected over one and a half million dollars in 1962. The monthly payments, he said, represent an increase of more than 14 per cent compared to monthly payments last year.

"More people in Marin," he said, "could draw benefits if they knew more about the law. The San Francisco office is at 303 Golden Gate Avenue, San Francisco, and a representative is at the San Rafael City Hall from 8:30 a.m. to noon and 1 to 3 p.m. Mondays and Fridays."

Cranston, Byron Johnson To Speak In Marin On Peace

Alan Cranston, state controller, and Byron Johnson, special assistant to the director of the State Department's Agency for International Development, will be principal speakers at an Interfaith Peace Conference tomorrow at the Civic Center.

The conference, sponsored by the Marin County Council of Churches, will open at 2:30 p.m. with introduction of Cranston by Fred F. Enemark, president of the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce.

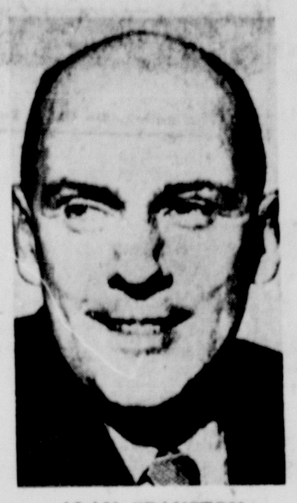
Cranston's subject will be, "Can California Afford Peace?"

The state controller was an International News Service correspondent in Europe before World War II. He wrote an anti-Nazi version of Hitler's "Mein Kampf" which sold half a million copies before courts stopped its sale as violating Hitler's copyright.

Following the war, he was in the real esatte investment business until elected state controller in 1958. He is a founder of the California Democratic Council.

Johnson will speak at 8 p.m., following a conference dinner. His topic is "The Cost of Peace to the Religious Citizen."

Johnson, a former professor of economics at University of Denver, served one term in Congress in 1959-60.



ALAN CRANSTON

BYRON JOHNSON
"The cost of peace"

Recations to Johnson's speech will be given by banker Byron W. Leydecker and attorneys Peter Allen Smith and Julian Mack II.

Rabbi Morton Hoffman of Congregation Rodef Sholom will give the invocation.

The conference will continue Saturday at Blessed Sacrament Catholic Church in Santa Venetia, where Rev. Donald Baldwin, president of the council of churches, will lead a discussion on "opportunities for congregational action on behalf of peace." This will follow a Mass at 7:30 a.m. and breakfast at 8 a.m. at the church.

Rev. Wesley C. Baker of the First Presbyterian Church of San Rafael is chairman of the conference.

Education Bill Would Change State Apportioning Concept

SACRAMENTO (AP — Sen. Donald L. Grunsky (R-Watsonville), said today he plans to "pump additional millions" into proposed legislation to overhaul state financing of California schools.

His statement cleared the way for an early showdown in both houses on how much more, if anything, the legislature will vote for education this year.

Grunsky won Senate Education Committee approval yesterday of his school finance bill over demurrers by the Department of Education and the California School Boards Assn. that it didn't go far enough.

But the measure now faces a stern test before the Senate Finance Committee in view of outspoken opposition by Chairman George Miller Jr. (D-Martinez), to any major increases in state subsidies.

Grunsky's bill would change the concept for apportioning the 800 million dollars a year that represents the state's foundation program for elementary and high school districts.

In effect, it would encourage more pay for teachers and fewer students in each class.

State support at present is geared to average daily attendance. It would be based instead on teacher-pupil ratios and teacher salaries.

Grunsky said he now will amend the countywide tax proposal into his bill to pour an extra 25 million dollars into school districts and ease the burden on local property taxpayers.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown has recommended the countywide tax along with a 30 million dollar boost in state aid.

Grunsky said he will seek enough money from the state general fund to bring the increased state contributions up to the level of a pending Assembly bill sponsored by the California Teachers Assn.

The CTA version, introduced by Assemblyman Charles B. Garrigus (D-Reedley), calls for a 126 million dollar increase in apportionments.

As it stands, the Grunsky bill would allocate funds for elementary schools on the ratio of one teacher to every 33 pupils. Schools up to this standard would get 6,300 per teacher for teacher salaries, plus $1,500 per teacher for other essential services.

For high schools, the ratio would be one teacher to every 28 pupils. They would draw $7,200 for teacher salaries and $1,750 for the other services.

SACRAMENTO SUMMARY

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

THE GOVERNOR

Declined executive clemency for three men scheduled to die tomorrow in San Quentin.

Bills Signed:

Unification—Permits State Board of Education to grant up to one-year extension, not beyond Sept. 16, 1964, for counties which can show they cannot earlier submit master plans for unification of school districts.

Gifted—Authorizes school districts to hold Saturday activities for gifted children on a voluntary basis and with their own funds.

THE ASSEMBLY

Bills Passed:

Employees—Allows public employees to participate in state ballot measure campaigns; AB 1808 Bagley (R-San Rafael).

Taxes—Extends state sales tax to take-out restaurant food sales; AB 1543, Hanson (D-Ventura).

Elections—Allows absentee ballots to be returned up to 5 p.m. of the day before election rather than not later than third day before election; SB 191, Grunsky (R-Watsonville).

Bills Approved by Committees:

Boxing—Requires State Athletic Commission to revoke license of boxer who fights after his license is suspended because of knockout; AB 1610, Knox (D-Richmond) McMillan (D-Los Angeles).

THE SENATE

Bill Defeated:

Taxes—Conforms state bank and corporation tax law with the federal Internal Revenue Code of 1954 as it relates to business expenses, among other things; SB 264, Cobey (D-Merced).

Bills Passed:

Shooting—Authorizes city or county to offer reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of a person who shoots any firearms from or onto a public highway; SB 822, Cobey.

Prisoners — Eliminates requirement that inmates assigned to conservation camps whose dependents are on welfare, must contribute at least two-thirds of their pay to dependents; SB 338, Cobey.

Livestock—Authorizes indemnity payments to eradicate livestock on TB-infected premises when usual methods of control have failed; SB 738, Cobey.

Resolution Introduced:

Aged—Urges federal government to make more surplus food available to senior citizens; SJR 25, Geddes (D-Napa).

Marinites Going To Red Cross Convention

Mr. and Mrs. Donald W. Chapman of San Rafael will leave Saturday for Philadelphia to attend the National Convention of American Red Cross as delegates of the Marin Chapter, of which Chapman is chairman.

Mrs. Chapman is recognition chairman of the Marin chapter, and in 1961 received the Clara Barton Award for her many years of Red Cross services.

Brown Plea To Abolish Boxing Gets Knocked Out Of Legislature

SACRAMENTO (AP—Gov Edmund G. Brown's request for a popular vote on abolition of professional boxing was knocked out in the first round by the legislature. No rematch is scheduled.

The Assembly Governmental Efficiency and Economy Committee defeated the measure yesterday. Introduced by Assemblyman Carl A. Britschgi (R-Redwood City).

Boxer Duke Robertson, testifying in support of Britschgi's measure, said he had been cheated by a Sacramento fight promoter, John Squaglia.

Joey Lopes of Sacramento, one-time lightweight contender, told the committee later that he had seen Robertson work out and added, "I've got an amateur fighter who fights better than that."

Robertson, who was standing in the rear of the crowded hearing room, strode to the front and put his hand on Lopes' shoulder saying, "I'm not going to go for that."

Glenwood Contract Is Awarded

Contract for building the Glenwood School, to cost $463,636, was awarded last night by the San Rafael Board of Education with its collective fingers crossed.

The construction contract went to Christensen and Foster of Santa Rosa, low bidder at $427,550. Charles L. Condrotte, the schools' business manager, estimated building inspection, architect fees, equipping and furnishing would run the total to $463,636 before the school can be opened.

The finger-crossing resulted from the fact that the San Rafael Elementary School District is $262,736 short of having the money without dipping into its general fund for the building. To raise that much out of the general fund would mean wiping out the reserve and postponing virtually all repair and improvement projects at other schools.

If, however, the balance of the E Street School property is sold for the expected $231,050, and the district realizes $20,000 from sale of lots created out of surplus property at the Glenwood site, the dip into the general fund will be only $13,000. An item of $14,000 to hire noontime supervisors for elementary schools next year was tagged to be probably dropped for that. Board member Carl J. Brown said the San Rafael Recreation Department is interested in supplying the noontime supervision on a cooperative setup that may cut the cost.

The board approved an arrangement whereby Bianco Brothers, who purchased part of the E Street property at $200,900, will be allowed immediate use of the entire Fourth Street frontage in return for immediate cash payment of the full amount. The school district had proposed retaining use of part of the frontage until the Glenwood School is completed. Bianco Brothers will fence off the part purchased.

A title cloud remains on the rest of the property, as a result of which no bid on it was received when it was put up for sale last month. Condrotte said the county counsel's office told him yesterday that a suit to quiet title would be ready for filing by tomorrow.

Repeated references to an elementary district bond issue were made during discussion of the Glenwood project, which board member Bella H. Aaron called "deficit financing."

"I see no harm in borrowing money from ourselves . . . provided we immediately take steps to get a bond issue," said board member John M. Bagshaw.

85 Seek Job As Fireman

Eigthy-five men have been accepted to take the examination for four Sausalito firemen jobs to man the city's second firehouse.

City Mgr. Charles A. Brown said the written examination will be given at 9:30 a.m. Saturday at Central School. He said 11 men were rejected because of over age. Applicants filed for the job, which has a starting pay of $440, from as far away as Chico, Fort Bragg, and Southern California.

The fire station, to be constructed at Spencer Avenue and Highway 101, is expected to be opened sometime this summer, Brown said.

Insurance Dividends

NEW YORK (UPI)—Life insurance holders received a record 1.98 billion dollars in policy dividends in 1962, an increase of 161 million or 9 per cent ahead of the 1961 payments, according to the Life Insurance Institute.

One acre in five on U.S. farms produces for export.

Mill Valley Meter Hikes Discussed

Hiking parking meter fines in Mill Valley from $1 to $2 was discussed by city council last night, the council asking City Atty Leland H. Jordan to "look into it."

City Mgr. A. E. Almcrants reported the Sausalito City Council, which Jordan also represents, had authorized their attorney to investigate the hike.

"One of the concerns of the municipal court," Jordan said, "has been that they desire the same schedule in all cities because otherwise it increases the work load of their staff." Fines are now $1 throughout Marin.

Corvair Monza Club Coupe

Who needs muscles?

Do you know how easy it is to take a corner with a Corvair or park one? Turn this newspaper sideways and it will give you a pretty good idea. The wheel handles just that easily.

The Corvair's engine is in the rear, you see, for not only greater traction but more balanced weight distribution. And that's what makes the steering so completely effortless.

The engine is air cooled, too. No radiator. No water or antifreeze. No boiling over or freezing up to worry about. It takes the weather and the terrain as it comes.

AT YOUR CHEVROLET DEALER'S

So think about those trips to the beach this summer, those bright sunny days and balmy moonlit nights.

And besides, looking at it from a very practical point of view, it's Trade 'N' Travel time right now at your Chevrolet dealer's. He's got some beautiful buys.

But you had better hurry before somebody muscles in ahead of you. Spring's here. Summer's coming fast. And with these sporty good-looking Corvairs selling the way they are, he who hesitates will want to kick himself.

San Rafael Teachers Win Improved Salary Schedule

San Rafael teachers last night won an improved salary schedule, and will get a still better one if the school districts' revenues exceed predictions.

In a midnight decision, the board put into effect for next school year a pay schedule reducing the number of salary steps fro 16 to 15, raising the minimum pay from $5,000 per year to $5,100 and the maximum from $9,770 to $10,050. This will result in average pay increases of about $300 per year beyond the automatic annual increments of about $150.

Not only that, but the decision, on a motion by board member Carl J. Brown, provides that if revenues prove sufficient the number of steps will be dropped automatically to 14, retroactive to the start of the new contracts. This would hike the average raise from $450 total to about $580 total.

The 15-step schedule will add $47,895 for next year to salary costs in the high school district and $43,950 in the elementary district, beyond the cost under the old 16-step setup, according to figures submitted by Supt. Bert C. Corona. The 14-step schedule would add $21,552 more in the high school district and $17,030 in the elementary district.

Brown's motion passed unanimously after a motion by board member Bella H. Aaron to adopt the 14-step schedule now lost 3 to 2, with only Brown voting with her.

Although they went along with the promise for the 14 steps if the additional revenues appear, chairman C. Paul Bettini and board members John M. Bagshaw and Walter J. Doll expressed some misgivings.

Doll insisted that (1) the elementary district budget, which the board had just reviewed, was too tight to justify committing all additional revenues for salaries, and (2) the whole salary schedule is improper. He proposed that the setup be reviewed to work out an entirely new schedule. Ewing Bone, San Rafael High School mathematics teacher and chairman of the teachers' salary committee, said the teachers would be agreeable to that.

Bagshaw proposed the 15-step schedule be granted with a proviso to reopen discussions if additional revenues appear. Brown insisted that if the money comes in, the 14-step scale should be automatic.

A request by non-teaching employees for a $20 monthly raise in addition to a new schedule recently approved was put over for discussion at the board's next meeting.

Labor Seminar Set

A seminar on the handling of unemployment insurance appeals will be held in Painter's Hall at 701 Mission Avenue, San Rafael, on May 9 at 9 a.m. The seminar will be conducted by referees from the State Unemployment Appeals Board in San Rafael.

San Rafael Rec Commission Suggests Summer Day Camp

Operation of a summer day camp was suggested last night by San Rafael recreation and park commissioners.

The programs from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. for children of elementary school age would include nature study, arts and crafts and athletics.

Recreation Director Joseph D. Rodota was instructed to look for a site for the program. The Marin Council of Boy Scouts of America's Tamarancho facility, outside of Fairfax, was suggested.

The commission again discussed use of the American Legion building at 317 Fourth Street as a recreation center and instructed Rodota to attend the legion's next meeting.

Weekend rental rates at Albert Field were set at $7.50 a day, with the money to be used to cover maintenance and cleaning expenses.

Mill Valley Lions Club Plan Glaucoma Clinic

The Mill Valley Lions Club will sponsor a free glaucoma detection clinic from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. Saturday in Park School auditorium. Purpose of the clinic is to detect at an early stage the eye disease which contributes to blindness.

Dr. William J. Filante, San Rafael opthalmologist, will donate his service to the project, according to George Larson and Edward Dill, club members.

Mill Valley Mayor Asks Push To Get Buses Off Streets

Mayor Joseph E. Sheeks of Mill Valley last night urged that property owners write to Gray Line Inc. voicing their complaints about buses routed to Muir Woods through the city over Montford, Molino and Edgewood Avenues and Sequoia Valley Drive.

He also instructed City Mgr. A. E. Almcrants to "really push these people and tell them we have every intention of getting the buses off the street."

Action came after Terrence R. Bunton of 407 Molino Avenue pressed the council not to drag its feet. Bunton, with more than 100 others, signed a petition in March asking that heavy traffic be re-routed since residents considered buses and trucks hazardous to life and limb.

"If it's unsafe for public carrier," said Mrs. R. S. O'Connor of 172 Edgewood Avenue, "it means we will be without school bus transportation. All those children must go to Edna Maguire School. This is a long hike," she said.

Council introduced an ordinance to set a speed limit on Molino Avenue between Montford and Cypress Avenues of 25 miles per hour, a 10 mile per hour reduction and approved a stop sign at Linden Lane and Montford Avenue.

It voted unanimously to grant an encroachment permit to G. C. Kott, Mill Valley builder, to permit him to put a six-inch sewer lateral under his controversial bridge on upper Cascade Drive.

Tentative map approval was given developers Eugene C. Harter and Sherrill Broudy for a subdivision to build six homes on eight and one-half acres in Enchanted Knolls off Keats Drive. This was subject to several stipulations, one being there must be sidewalks in for the Battle Ridge Unit 1 homes.

The Mill Valley City Council Also:

1. Passed an ordinance increasing insurance coverage for the city's eight taxis and hiking the rates from 50 cents to 60 cents for the first four-fifths of a mile.

2. Ordered that weeds be cleaned off the lot of A. A. Tiscornia, San Francisco large land owner, at 38 Locust Avenue, the charge to be placed as a lien against his property.

3. Authorized a two week extension to A. E. Mullen of Mountain View, contractor putting in the Ethel Avenue retaining wall, the period to start April 29. Mullen is to be held liable for finishing the job at no further cost to the city.

4. Heard Sheeks compliment Larry Counts on the success of the teen-age dance Saturday at Tamalpais High School to raise teen center funds. "We're very proud of the work you did," Sheeks said.

5. Moved that City Atty. Leland H. Jordan process through the boundary commission the petition of Marin Capital Co. to annex Scott Valley Units 3 and 4 to the city.

6. Heard that the Army Corps of Engineers will hold a hearing on Richardson Bay flood control at 2 p.m., May 22 at the Civic Center which affects Mill Valley's creeks, Coyote and Presidio Del Arroyo Corte Madera.

7. Took no action on a request from Elmer Kaysen, of Casa Bello painting and decorating, San Rafael, asking that his business license fee be pro-rated since he lives out of city and since the $27 fee charged represents more than his profit on a $132 painting job he did in Mill Valley.

8. Authorized permit for Mill Valley Optimist club to hold its Youth-O-Rama and horse show June 14, 15 and 16 on the Optimist ball field, the club saying funds would be to construct a grandstand.

9. Asked Almcrants to check the architect's 11 per cent fee for work on the city's proposed library, Councilman George D. Monardo saying "normally it's eight per cent."

10. Directed a letter be sent Dr. F. I. Drexler of 18 Buena Vista Avenue commending him on his 85th birthday and for his service to the community.

11. Heard from Councilman George Blackwell that both Eugene E. Crawford, architect, and William M. Spencer Jr., public relations man, are interested in the post of building inspector left vacant by the death of Preston L. Canfield.

12. Decided the May 29 Marin Council of Mayors and Councilmen meeting would be at Sabella's Restaurant. Council went on record saying the representative of the mayor attending such meetings is authorized to speak for the council.

13. Said it would hold a meeting of the Mill Valley retirement board May 15.

14. Approved $31,744 in warrants.

15. Adjourned to Saturday at 9 a.m. to discuss the 1963-64 budget.

Art Teachers Assn. Officers Elected

William Luft, head of the art department at Novato High School, has been re-elected president of the Marin County Art Teachers Assn.

Farhad Moezzi, head of the San Rafael High School art department, was elected vice president. Mrs. Margaret Zigart, art teacher at Tamalpais High School, was elected secretary, and Thomas Lamonita of Redwood High School, treasurer. Henri Boussy, head of the art department at Tamalpais High School, was named resources person. James Munson, art teacher at Vallecitos School, was named to form a junior high school division of the association.

More than 18 million people in the United States were receiving over a billion dollars a month in old-age, survivors and disability Social Security benefits at the close of 1962.

Czech Rocket Tests Reported

VIENNA (UPI) — Communist Czechoslovakia built "experimental rockets" during the 1950s and launched them over Czech territory, a Czech newspaper reaching here said today.

Mlada Fronta, the daily publication of the Czech Communist youth movement, said in its April 29 issue, "Our country developed its own experimental rockets from 1955 to 1957 but finally stopped production in view of Russia's clear superiority."

South View Park Gets Circular Slide

Sausalito's first circular slide has been installed at South View Park, City Mgr. Charles A. Brown said today.

The $900 slide has been long sought by the city's recreation commission and is part of the master development plan for the park now nearing completion. Other improvements include installation of both tennis and basketball courts and landscaping.

Schools Budget Hard To Trim

San Rafael Board of Education members found little to cut last night in proposed budgets of elementary and high school districts for 1963-64.

Supt. Bert C. Corona said he and his staff had already cut heavily to bring the budgets into balance with expected revenues. The high school district budget as presented totals $2,641,200 (up $224,351 from the current year), and the elementary district budget, $2,431,500 (up $75,391). Both include the 15-step salary schedule, with increases all along the line, which the board approved after the budget review.

Both districts would levy their maximum tax rates ($1.25 and $1.75 respectively, plus over-rides and bond redemption) to raise the funds.

The budgets are for operations only, not including any financing of new school sites or buildings.

Board members went through the budgets page-by-page and item-by-item in a review that ran past midnight, but found little to eliminate. New member Walter J. Doll questioned many items, but most were explained to his satisfaction.

Supt. Bert C. Corona said $45,000 of federal funds shown in the high school district budget and $21,000 of the same in the elementary district budget may not be received if Congress does not renew the law which provides them. On the other hand, bills in the state legislature may result in appreciable increases in state funds.

Corona expressed hope that the increases in assessed valuation in both districts will prove higher than preliminary estimates by County Assessor Bert W. Broemel which were used in drawing up the budgets.

Preble Gets Position With Orange College

Dr. Kenneth J. Preble, winding up three years as principal of Greenbrae and Wolfe Grade schools June 30, announced today he has accepted aposition as assistant professor at Orange State College, Fullerton, Orange County.

Preble, who announced his resignation March 20, said he and his family will leave Marin about July 1. He begins his new position Sept. 1, teaching educational administration at the elementary school level.

Princess Muna, the former Toni Gardiner, gave birth to the couple's first child, a boy and heir to the Hashemite throne, in January, 1962.

Board Approves Contract For Welfare Patients At Hospital

Approval of a draft contract for the new Alderson Convalescent Hospital at Novato to take ambulatory county welfare recipients was unanimously voted by county supervisors at a special session yesterday afternoon.

Only remaining uncertainty was the identity of the signers for the hospital.

County Counsel E. Warren McGuire appeared before the board in accordance with instructions the previous day, when it was decided that Alderson would take 10 walking inmates of the hospital and and thus allow its closure last night after transfer of 69 chronically ill inmates by Dr. Rafael G. Dufficy's new Terra Linda Valley Hospital.

McGuire outlined terms of the document as previously agreed with the board but said he'd struck a slight snag in wording since he had learned that Mrs. Elizabeth Sovulewski, administrator, was "authorized to negotiate but not to sign."

At that moment Mrs. Sovulewski was up at Novato receiving the people sent from Lucas Valley and there was nobody to explain.

McGuire said he would proceed to identify the responsible parties whether corporation, partnership or any other entity, and make the contract read accordingly as the necessary signature or signatures went down.

The supervisors satisfied themselves on a few points, such as a statement that this was an "interim placement" due to present absence of less expensive boarding homes, then told McGuire to go ahead.

Sausalito School Hiring On Agenda

Sausalito School District trustees will hold a closed meeting Monday at 8 p.m. at the district office to discuss hiring of personnel for the 1963-64 school year.

An open meeting may follow, Supt. Marcus F. Davis said today, to take up any business which may be necessary.

Drainage Control Work Is Started

Corte Madera town forces have begun installing four new power-operated drainage control gates in the Corte Madera high canal off Lucky Drive and should complete the work some time next week, Town Mgr. Arthur H. Brandow announced today.

The $1,200 worth of gate lifts and other electrically operated equipment will provide better control of the town's drainage, said Brandow.

On completion of the work Mayor Edward W. Colthurst is to call another meeting of Lagoon 2 residents with himself and Councilman Charles R. Barnett to discuss lagoon improvements.

Residents have asked the town to dredge the lagoon, which is estimated to be only about three and one half feet deep compared to a depth of eight feet in Lagoon 1.

Several months ago residents complained of rats, mosquitos and debris in the lagoon.

Pendleton Will Renew Civic Center Proposal

Town Councilman Charles F. Pendleton of Corte Madera announced today that at next Monday night's meeting of the town council he will renew his suggestion that a civic center be built in the town park on Tamalpais Drive.

Pendleton said his proposal, already made to the planning commission, would save the town money because it owns the park land but not the land proposed as a public safety building site.

Current plans are to build the public safety building, first structure in a civic center, on the Mayhood property on the west side of Pixley avenue, across the street from the park.

Meanwhile Town Mgr. Arthur H. Brandow said Mayor Edward W. Colthurst had asked him to review meetings of previous town councils for the past 25 years to learn decisions they had made regarding the park.

Youth Appointed To Air Academy

John M. Carney Jr. of Terra Linda has been appointed to the Air Force Academy at Colorado Springs, Colo.

Carney, son of Lt. Col. and Mrs. John M. Carney of 1021 Las Raposas Road, was notified of his appointment by a telephone call from Rep. Donald H. Clausen yesterday, according to Mrs. Carney.

The youth, whose father is retired from the Air Force, was graduated from Marin Catholic High School last year and attended Millard School in Bandon, Ore., which specializes in training potential academy cadets.

LUNCH HOUR — "This is luxury compared to what William Moore had," said one of the "Freedom Marchers" as the group paused for lunch yesterday in Trenton, Ga. Moore, a Baltimore postman, was slain April 24 near Attalla, Ala., while on a desegregation walk.

'Freedom Marchers' Meet Jeers, Insults First Day Out

TRENTON, Ga. (AP)—A group of "Freedom Marchers" set out today on the second leg of a walk through the Deep South as a protest to segregation. The marchers drew jeers and insults their first day out.

The are retracing the steps of Baltimore postman William Moore, who was shot to death near Attalla, Ala., April 24. The group faces probable arrest in Alabama.

Eight Negroes who planned a similar demonstration from Attalla were arrested yesterday and charged with breach of the peace. They are being held in jail at Gadsden, Ala.

The Freedom Marchers who started their walk from Chattanooga, Tenn., spent the night huddled in sleeping bags and blankets on the floor and pews of a little white frame church at Hooker, a northwest Georgia community.

But white persons live nearby, and some of them dropped in to speak to the five white men and the five Negro men. Most of them said they came because they were curious.

Gary Brock, 19, white stock clerk in a food market, said "I just came by to see what was going on. The people here, you know, are just like they are in any other part of the South. They just don't like it."

Jim Hickson, 31, a white electrician, walked into the church and introduced himself to several of the Negro men. They shook hands.

"I'm not prejudiced," Hickson said, "but I think you're fighting a losing battle. Kennedy couldn't change Wallace's views on this business and I'm sure this won't."

He referred to Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy's visit to Alabama Gov. George Wallace last week.

A group of white men and women stood in the dirt road about 50 feet from the church. They were invited inside.

"They wouldn't come in here for anything," said Brock. "This is a Negro church."

Robert Gore, 31, a member of Core, led the march most of the way. He carried a sign which said "Equal Rights to All-Mississippi or Bust" on one side and "Eat at Joe's—Black and White" on the other side.

Moore was carrying a similar sign when he was killed at Attalla. A white grocer, Floyd Simpson, was charged with murder earlier this week in the slaying of Moore, also white.

Army Sergeant Gets Promotion

Army Sgt. James O. Schmidt, formerly of San Rafael, has been promoted to sergeant major (F-9) in the Special Forces at Fort Bragg, N.C.

Schmidt, who attended San Rafael High School, joined the army in 1942. He served as paratrooper during World War II, received the Silver Star with cluster in Korea and recently served as military advisor in Thailand. His parents live at 823 B Street, San Rafael.

'Bayou Bash' Big Crowds Are Expected

The capacity crowds that attended the first two performances of the Novato Community Club's "Bayou Bash" last weekend are expected to be repeated when the "Bash" is performed again tomorrow and Saturday at 8:30 p.m. at the Novato Community House.

Written by Jan Krause and Shirley Lane, "Bayou Bash" has the theme of a river showboat going to New Orleans for the Mardi Gras. Of course the riverboat doesn't arrive in New Orleans until after some waterfront scenes, and stopping to pick up passengers.

Captain Abner of the Robert E. Lee, played by Donald Leaf, and the women's chorus set the carnival mood with their singing and dancing of "Waiting for the Robert E. Lee."

Fred Paul Jones, a newcomer to "Bash" performances, did a good job as "The Old Salt" with his singing of "Lazy Bones."

The riverboat pauses on its trip to present a minstrel show put on by the men's chorus. One of the best numbers of this group was "I Ain't A-Gonna Grieve My Lord No More."

The black light numbers were very good, both in the minstrel show and the tour of the New Orleans nightspots. The happiness tour of New Orleans is complete with the Mardi Gras parade done by the entire cast.

Producer was Robert Young, with Joseph Jacob doing the directing. Musical direction was by De Lone Kone.

As in past productions, the dance routines were well done, with Wanda Blackwell as choreographer.

Eric Kollgaard, Denver Wilson and Robert Blackwell did the lighting effects.

Tickets are still available from the "moving ticket booth," which is now stationed at Brice Brothers Market. (TAN)

Brown Asks Business For Support

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Gov. Edmund G. Brown asked business leaders last night to support two key planks in his administration's program for California's economic development.

The governor singled out his plans for abolishing installment payment of business and personal income taxes and for creation of an office of urban affairs.

Brown told the annual dinner of the Southern California Businessmen's Assn.:

"At a time when California is prosperous, when our economy is expanding, there is a natural reluctance to deal with problems affecting the years to come.

"But California's success was based on meeting challenges of the future—on a refusal to be overwhelmed by the great tidal waves of growth. And it is on this question that my own concept of the future differs from that held by some of my opponents in the legislature.

"On that basis, too, I ask for your support. I do not ask it along partisan lines, or on terms of any special interest or type of business."

British Clothing Shop Opening In Kentfield

Tweeds and Weeds, a distinctly British type of men's and women's clothing shop, will hold its opening ceremonies Saturday in the Woodlands Shopping Center, Kentfield.

The firm, which has its American headquarters in Santa Barbara, has had the former Kentfield Postoffice redecorated in an 18th century English motif to display its stocks of men's and women's suits and sport clothes tailored from imported woolen fabrics and cashmeres fabricated in Scottish and Engilsh mills. Dresses made from imported Italian silk are also to be sold.

The Tweeds and Weeds store were founded in the 1920s by a Scotch woolen manufacturer who had come to Southern California to retire. Later the stores were taken over by Richard and Geoffrey Bill, junior members of the London tweed firm W. Bill, Ltd. They still carry on the business today and maintain a London buying office.

Harland Peake, manager of a store in Palm Springs for the past 15 years, will be in charge of the Kentfield operation. Other stores are in La Jolla and Montecito. Four shops are operated in Santa Barbara.

The name Tweeds and Weeds was taken from the British fabric, with the assonant use of "Weeds" denoting its popular association with English pipe tobacco and tea drinking.

Merchandise will be displayed in a setting of English antique furniture, among paintings of the French and American schools which are also to be sold in the store.

Stanford Aide To Get Award

STANFORD (AP) — Dr. Philip E. Smith, experimental anatomist of Stanford University of Medicine, will receive the Sir Henry Dale Medal, highest honor in endocrinology—study of the internal secretions—the university has announced.

Doctor Smith, first American to win the award, demonstrated that the gonads, thyroid and adrenal glands cannot devleop and function without the pituitary gland.

Prof. A. S. Parkes will come from Cambridge University, England, to present the award next week on behalf of the Society for Endocrinology of Great Britain.

Literary Magazine

The fourth edition of Redwood High School's literary magazine, Orpheus, went on sale this week. The 60-page magazine contains short stories, art work, and poetry. Terry Chambers and Eddie Henrich are co-editors.

JUVENILE CENTER IS RECOMMENDED

Construction of a "residential treatment center" in Lucas Valley for treatment of delinquent children in conjunction with their families was recommended to county supervisors yesterday.

Administrator Alan Bruce put the recommendation in a report on future Lucas Valley use, which the supervisors found full of meat but requiring a period of study.

Judge Richard M. Sims Jr. of the Juvenile Court strongly endorsed the treatment center idea by letter. It was also backed through personal statements of Probation Director Walter Busher and David Fogel, superintendent of Juvenile Hall.

Another Bruce recommendation was for construction of a new central kitchen for Juvenile Court facilities, to be completed by July 1, 1964.

The board voted approval of three sections of another document, a letter by Bruce suggesting administrative steps in closing down the hospital and farm.

The sections dealt respectively with disposition of staff, auditor's actions to handle fund transfers through June 30, and inventory of equipment and supply. Two other recommendations concerning building security after May 15 and management after June 30 were left pending.

Judge Sims said he was "chagrined" to learn that despite temporary safegarding work on the nursing hospital buildings they are deemed inadequate to house part of the Probation Department, but he felt that this is in measure offset by the recommendations about kitchen and treatment center.

Judge Sims also asked consideration for more adequate space for court detention hearings at Juvenile Hall.

Bruce's preliminary cost estimates for new central kitchen gave a total of $145,625, or $108,125 if dining hall were deducted.

Residential treatment center cost was estimated at $229,375, subject to a state subsidy of $3,000 a bed for 30 beds, 15 for girls and 15 for boys, leaving the net county cost at $139,375.

In the early days of the United States most of the federal internal revenue came from customs duties and the sale of public lands.

DRUGTAX
A SERVICE TO TAXPAYERS

Ever wish, at income tax time, that you had a complete record of every cent you spent for drugs and drug products throughout the year—and how much of it was legally deductible?

That kind of a record could save you money. And that kind of a record can now be yours, every year, absolutely free of charge.

This new service is called DrugTax. We are making it available to all of our customers immediately, free of charge, as another way of saying "thank you" for their patronage.

You would be surprised at the number of drug and medical supplies that can be of a deductible nature—items such as antiseptics, aspirin, cough and cold preparations, and hundreds of others.

Indeed, the American taxpayer has been losing millions of dollars annually because he hasn't been aware of how many drug items are legally deductible.

But you must be able to offer proof of purchase in order to claim such items in preparing your federal income tax return. And when you buy from us, you get that proof—in the form of an annual record, mailed in February.

Come in today and let us tell you more about DrugTax. And from now on, buy all of your drug and medical supplies from the store that gives you the free DrugTax record.

THESE AND MANY OTHER ITEMS YOU PURCHASE . . . ARE DEDUCTIBLE!

DECISIONS, DECISIONS

Boy Logger Causes Stir In Mill Valley

Logging business — even though run by a 16-year-old boy — does not fit in with the way of life of some 20 residents of Mill Valley's wooded Blithedale Canyon.

Neighbors to the boy logger appeared before the city council to complain of the operation as a public nuisance.

Said Robert Warnick: "He's doing business in an area not zoned for business without a business license." He has logs in the creek and has built a dam across the creek, both against city ordinance. "The neighborhood is not enjoying life in that area."

Said Mrs. Howard B. Bleyle: "In the last two years there have been 200 complaints to the city manager and police about the boy. We received no help until March 17 (when the boy cut wood by chain saw on Sunday). She added, "The other day they were drag racing on Corte Madera Avenue, going the wrong way on a one way street and hitting speeds of about 50 miles an hour . . . I think it's ridiculous when we can't have our ordinances enforced."

Mayor Joseph Sheeks said the city manager will give a full report to council May 15, the city attorney will check with juvenile authorities to see about expediting action he has taken in the matter, the city engineer will check the creek for logs and the dam and police will be asked to keep a sharp surveillance in the area.

City Mgr. A. E. Almerants reported most of the logs and equipment in front of the boy's home have been removed since complaints first were received.

A report is expected soon from the probation officer on the boy, City Atty. Leland H. Jordan said.

House Group Votes Hike In Debt Limit

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House Ways and Means Committee, by a 15-10 party line vote, approved a bill today that would boost the legal limit on the national debt to a record 309 billion dollars during July and August.

Treasury Secretary Douglas Dillon has indicated the debt ceiling will have to be boosted to about 320 billion dollars after August to cope with the red-ink spending in prospect during the new fiscal year starting July 1.

The committee-approved bill would boost the temporary ceiling, now set at 305 billion dollars to 307 billion dollars through June 30. This is designed to tide the Treasury through the rest of the fiscal year.

Before approving the measure, the committee rejected a Republican substitute that would have made permanent the present 305 billion dollar level.

Complex Box

NEW YORK (AP) — That telephone sitting on the desk contains 475 parts — count 'em. There are 87 in the dial unit, 75 in the handset, 73 in the ringer and 108 in the electrical network. Western Electric, which makes telephones, said these are combined with 132 additional parts on the assembly line.

Mill Valley Moves To Keep Trails, Stairs Open

Pleas from two citizens to save Mill Valley's historic trails and stairways helped prompt the city council last night to ask for a redraft of its proposed open-area ordinance.

"Children could use them to walk to school," Mrs. R. S. O'Connor said, "if some of these trail ways were open. There are now houses built across some. Those are gone."

Manuel Gomez said he climbed the steps next to Ted Gibson's building for 17 years. "Let's make a study again," he added.

City Atty. Leland H. Jordan was asked to redraft the ordinance, which is similar to the county's, and has as its main purpose the saving of open areas of land. He will have it before Council May 15.

The ordinance, Jordan said, would include public land, private land with the owner's consent and private land without owner's consent but where that land is subject to a public easement such as the stairways which are public easements but have never been accepted by the city.

Gomez drew applause, saying, "when maintenance became a burden before, the trails were kept up by a Mill Valley city crew. It was always maintained by Henry Fostine just like another road. Things were maintained on a free basis. People could walk through. Now we lose the identity of those things. We say those stairs are bad. We should have repair. Yet you asking for an easement. Let's take care of what we have now."

Mayor Joseph E. Sheeks said Gomez would be welcome at budget hearings to explain how to finance the trails.

They Might Be Out Of Practice

VIRGINIA BEACH, Va. (UPI) — The man who goes to church on Sunday instead of the golf course got his reward here.

The Virginia Baptist Men's Conference opened with a golf tournament.

"We decided on the golf tournament as a reward for those who are faithful to their church responsibilities and do not play golf on Sunday," said the Rev. George E. Euting, executive secretary of the state brotherhood.

April Rains Improve Normal Runoff Chance

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The April rains in Northern and Central California greatly improved the chances for normal runoff this spring from mountain areas, state agencies report.

Through April 1, runoff was forecast at only 50 to 75 per cent of normal in the north and even lower in some Southern San Joaquin Valley areas.

AMID APPLAUSE AND LAUGHTER

Case Of Too-Short Skirts Closes

The Case of the Unclad Knees was closed amid laughter last night.

C. Paul Bettini, chairman of the San Rafael Board of Education, said he "didn't say quite what the newspapers and television made it appear I said" about short skirts on San Rafael High School coeds.

Bettini's declaration at an April 23 board meeting that some of the skirts at the high school were so short the girls "can't sit down safely" brought the campus wide photographic publicity, featuring displays of shapely calves and knees.

"I said I had noticed two or three girls whose skirts were shorter than I thought should be allowed," said Bettini last night. "My phone has rung for four or five days and nights. . . Everyone who called seemed to support me, but I don't know exactly what they were supporting."

Two San Rafael High School student council members, Rick Raznikov and Bob Black, appeared before the board to say they would "appreciate cooperation" on such matters in future because, as Black put it, "the public always seems to generalize about teen-agers and high school students."

Raznikov expressed thanks to Supt. Bert. C. Corona for helping the students "get our side of the story" on television.

Laughter greeted each remark about the Great Skirt Controversy except the final one by board member Bella H. Aaron. Said she:

"The only generalization we can make is that we think we have some wonderful, wonderful students."

Radioactivity Highest In Little Rock, Ark.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Public Health Service tabulations showed today that Little Rock, Ark., had the nation's highest level of radioactive strontium 90 in milk samples during the year ended last February.

The Little Rock total was 11,242 micromicrocuries, based on the daily average level in one liter of milk.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The number of telephones in the United States, which now averages 41 per 100 people, may reach 57 per 100 by 1970, the U. S. Independent Telephone Assn. believes.

Pushing Romney For President?

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mrs. J. Willard Marriott termed "ridiculous" today reports that a reception in her home late today for Gov. George Romney of Michigan is a quiet effort to push him as a possible Republican presidential candidate.

Mrs. Marriott, the Republican national committeewoman for the District of Columbia, said most of the names of the 300 guests invited to the reception were "taken from my Christmas list."

$1,400 Is Awarded By Mock Trial Jury

A jury of high school students yesterday awarded $1,400 for supposed auto accident damages asked in a mock trial in Marin Superior Court.

Some 120 students from high schools throughout the county attended the trial staged by the Marin Bar Assn. in observance of Law Day.

The jury of six boys and six girls returned the verdict in the afternoon. "Defendant" Wendy McPherson had asked $25,000 for "injuries" suffered in the accident supposedly caused by San Rafael High School student Ron Clausen.

San Rafael attorney Hadden W. Roth and other bar association members answered the students' questions about legal proceedings during the all day trial in the court of Judge Richard M. Sims Jr.

Television station KPIX covered the trial.

"Selection of the jury and the conduct of the whole trial was carried out just as in a real trial, and the students showed lots of interest," said Deputy Dist. Atty. Thomas T. Storer.

Youth, Novato Girl Injured In Car Crash

A Strawberry youth and his Novato girl passenger were injured about 8 o'clock last night when his car skidded on a turn of Indian Valley Road two miles southwest of Hill Street, Novato, and struck an oak tree.

The driver, Gary Lawson Week, 20, a College of Marin student, of 259 Strawberry Drive, suffered a cut head and was taken to Novato Hospital and transferred to Kaiser Foundation Hospital, San Francisco.

Pat Feler, 19, of 33 Washington Street, the passenger, suffered fractured ribs and was transferred from Novato Hospital and admitted to Hamilton Air Force Base Hospital, where her condition today was "good."

The California Highway Patrol reported Week westbound on Indian Valley Road when his wheels locked. Week was cited for driving too fast.

Thieves Take Video, Camera, Sew Machine

Burglars gained entry to a D Street apartment in San Rafael yesterday and stole $425 worth of cameras, a sewing machine and television set.

Jerrold James Hickok of 201 D Street told police that the four items were stolen between 1 and 5:15 p.m. yesterday.

CITY ATTORNEY NEARS 30 YEARS IN LARKSPUR

City Mgr. Ronald E. Piper surprised the Larkspur City Council last night with the news that as of Wednesday Samuel W. Gardiner of San Rafael had served as Larkspur city attorney for 30 years.

Councilman Neil R. Brixon proposed "a moment of silence" but this was drowned by wisecracks from all sides.

Councilman James J. Lienkaemper was heard to say:

"You started with us during the depression. You needed the work."

"It's been a pleasant association," said Gardiner.

Larkspur Gets Session On City General Plan

Larkspur Councilmen Neil R. Brixon proposed to fellow council members last night that another meeting be held on the proposed general plan for the city to find out if any progress has been made.

The council has held previous meeting with the Larkspur Parks and Recreation Commission and the Larkspur Planning Commission. Last February, the council authorized planners to proceed and seek outside help if needed.

The whole study would cost just under $10,000.

Councilmen agreed to meet in June to see what progress has been made.

In other business last night councilmen:

1. Received a monthly report for April from Piper, showing 16 building permits at $695,591, including the World Value Market project in Larkspur Plaza, were issued.

2. Instructed Piper to tell developer Niels Schultz Jr. the city will accept his gift of a sidewalk in Greenbrae Bon Air Subdivision 4 leading to the Bon Air shopping center after a guardrail and drainage are completed.

3. Heard William Slocum withdraw his appeal of the April 9 planning commission 3-1 rejection of his application for a use permit to expand a nursing home at 234 Hawthorne Avenue.

4. Granted Orie O. Estby of 13 Post Street an encroachment permit to leave an existing fence in front of his house outside his property.

5. Voted to have Pacific Gas and Electric Co. install seven street lights on Marina Vista Avenue at a cost of $2.95 per light per month.

6. Authorized Piper to hire two student planning aides for three months at $300 to $325 per month to help prepare the new city plan under supervision of a planning technicians.

7. Adjourned at 11:50 p.m. until 8 p.m. May 15 to hold a public hearing on planning commission approval of rezoning Magnolia Avenue from the Paul Daly Swim School to College Park from residential to restricted commercial.

She Denies Attempted Bridge Leap

A 55-year-old San Francisco woman, Anne Lopez, was cited on suspicion of trying to jump off the Golden Gate Bridge last night and taken to San Francisco General Hospital for observation. She denied planning to jump.

William Kazazean of Redwood City, driver for De Soto Sedan Service, reported Mrs. Lopez hired his cab outside a San Francisco cafe and asked to be driven to Sausalito.

He reported that after starting across the bridge, she said to stop because she wished to jump off. He said she tried to open the door and he locked it and radioed his office to notify bridge authorities.

Mrs. Lopez said she had earlier quarreled with her husband at a bar, California Highway Patrolman I. D. Jump said.

Novato Girl Is Valedictorian

Wendy Hardcastle will be the valedictorian of the 1963 graduating class at Novato High School and Donna Reary will be the salutatorian, principal Robert McKeay said yesterday.

The awarding of the top two places was based on the grade point averages over a four year period, McKeay said

Bonded Debts Due Voters In Tam District

Voters in the Tamalpais High School District will decide if they want to assume bonded debts for all elementary school districts within the area should a plan to unify the entire district come before the voters.

The augmented committee to plan unification of the Tamalpais district last night voted 17-1 to put the issue of "leveling bonded indebtedness' on the same ballot when voters decide if they want unification.

This means that payment of bonds already voted by individual school district would be asumed by the new district at large should the proposal be approved by a two-thirds majority in each elementary district.

"If this is approved," said Roy Bunt, representing the Nicasio school board, "it means our district will be taking on another's debts."

The committee also voted to recommend the voters approve a maximum tax rate of $4.01 for the district, reached by adding the high school district tax to an average of taxes charged by the elementary districts.

"It's a fraud on the taxpayer to establish a $4.01 tax and then come back in two years and ask for a raise from this ridiculously low rate," said John Cahill of Kentfield.

Cahill presented statistics to the committee showing the Kentfield district would lose $82,000 a year compared to the present local suport should the unification go through. On the other hand, the Larkspur district, which has a lower tax rate, would gain $92,000 in the "leveling process," Cahill said.

7 Trustees To Govern Should Tam Unification Be Passed

Seven school board trustees will govern the entire Tamalpais elementary and high school district should its unification be approved by the voters.

Debating whether electing trustees by the area where they live creates "ward politics," the augmented committee to plan unification of the Tamalpais District last night voted 17-2 to recommend a seven member board to the voters.

"eW should remember that state policy opposes election of trustees by trustee area," said Mrs. Elizabeth Deedy, representing the College of Marin board of trustees. "They feel it creates a ward politics situation."

But a 10-6 vote approved a motion by Dr. J. M. Stubblebine of the Tamalpais High School District that the seven trustees be elected by the district at large with each living in one of seven trustee areas.

According to the plan, which must be approved by the voters, Larkspur, San Anselmo and Mill Valley would each be represented by one trustee. The four other trustees would represent these school districts: Nicasio, Lagunitas and Fairfax; Ross and Kentfield; Reed and the Strawberry area of Mill Valley; and Bolinas, Stinson Beach, Sausalito and another corner of Mill Valley.

Sixty-five citizens now govern the same area.

"We've been talking about seeing the district as a whole, and now we've voted for the trustees to represent small areas," said Jack Mengel, county committee member, in a wondering if we know what we're doing." His remark drew laughter and applause.

The committee, adjourning near midnight, agreed it needed more information before setting public hearings on the proposal.

Princess Has Baby

WASHINGTON (AP) — President John F. Kennedy was among the first to offer congratulations yesterday on the birth of a son to the visiting hereditary grand duke of Luxembourg, Prince Jean.

The prince and his mother, Grand Duchess Charlotte, said they were astonished that the president already had heard the news when they made a farewell call at the White House late in the afternoon.

The prince said he himself had only been informed of the event about an hour before.

ARCHITECT SURVEY SET FOR CENTER

Supervisor George Ludy, who seconded Castro's motion, provided a dramatic touch in pleading for bond issue rather than pay-as-you-go financing.

"Let's face it, we have the Civic Center," he said. "I was against it before, now I'm all for it. That's why I think a bond issue would go over, because others have changed as I have. But whatever the board agrees on I'll go along 100 per cent."

Throughout discussion Fusselman preserved a cautious attitude. He said today that he favored a start but wasn't signing any overall blank check. When told by Bruce that the cost of the initial work would be "10 per cent of the overall fee if the architect is authorized to proceed" Fusselman urged that the board "keep in position where the architect can't sue you for non-completion—I'd buy the survey and buy the plans."

Bruce said the basic contract provides a safety factor and a cancellation clause. Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell added that the foundation had collected for the first phase "exactly 10 per cent, $359,728."

Much discussion centered about Ludy's desire for submission of a bond issue to the voters but three seemed solidly against it—led by William A. Gnoss, who said "I'm proud we have no bonded indebtedness and want to keep it so."

Fusselman asked "Do you think it (an issue submitted to the voters) would fail?" and Gnoss replied "I don't know but I want to be cautious."

Supervisor Peter Behr said the board has basic responsibility for a "second Civic Center wing, not merely desirable but necessary," and that he favored pay as you go unless convinced that all board members were determined to go ahead whether a bon dissue passed or not.

When Ludy said a bond issue would have the advantage of an earlier start than the projected contract-letting in August 1966, with completion by August 1968, involving a saving of 5 per cent rise in construction costs each year, Mitchell said only one year could be saved for in any event it would require two years to handle preliminaries. Public works director Donald R. Frost concurred.

Mitchell said today he had calculated that on a basis of estimated six million cost and a bond interest rate no higher than 3 per cent, over a 25-year period the interest cost would be two and one-half million dollars raising total cost to eight and one-half million dollars.

Against this, he said, could be set only the saving through advancing the contract date one year — 5 per cent or $300,000.

"So the additional cost of a bond issue would be $2,200,000 eventually though meanwhile the tax rate would be less," said Mitchell. "It should further be kept in mind that in a growing county like Marin there will be many other capital improvement needs such as roads."

Life Story Of Mrs. Powers: $250,000

MILLEDGEVILLE, Ga. (UPI) —Barbara Powers, ex-wife of former U-2 pilot Francis Gary Powers, will sell her life story for more than $250,000 in a package deal that includes a magazine serial, a book and a movie.

W. W. Diehl, a writer under contract to Allied Publisher, revealed yesterday that he had given Mrs. Powers a retainer check covering 10 per cent of the amount she will receive—but refused to say how much the check for for.

Mrs. Powers, Diehl and attorney Robert H. Green issued a joint statement concerning the sale of the life story of the 28-year-old woman. Diehl indicated that the amount paid to Mrs. Powers would range between $250,000 and $500,000.

"It's the highest price we have ever paid for something like this," Diehl said.

Mrs. Powers was married to Powers for eight years before their divorce in January. Powers' plane went down on Russian soil in May, 1960, and he spent 21 months in a soviet prison as a "spy."

MARIN BUSINESS And INDUSTRY

By HARRY CRAFT

There Is A Lot Of Planning Behind New Marin Building

Too many shoppings centers, apartments or houses being built? Where are the people who will patronize them and live in them coming from? These are questions that are asked daily—the same ones, by the way, we've been hearing for the last five years or more.

Builders of shopping centers, houses and apartments don't feel there's a major risk in these ventures. Do you stock a store's shelves with merchandise first and then attract customers, they reason — or wait for orders to be placed and then bring in your stocks?

Right now there's a lot of statistic studying and plain guessing on most likely areas of potential development, but no one wants to be caught with their plans down for fear someone else will beat them to it. And they're probably right.

NEW BRANCH STORE of Dexter's TV recently opened at 910 Grant Avenue, Novato, has been busy making new friends by awarding a transistor radio prize each week to some lucky visitor. Next Monday noon a color TV will be the grand award.

Larry Beeley, resident manager, feels the new store has already proved its point. Dexter's opened in Larkspur in 1947 with one service truck; now has several equipped with two-way radio to give immediate customer service throughout the county in radio, TV, high fidelity and transmitting equipment.

GOLDEN HINDE BOATEL in Inverness is adding more units and berths to its waterside premises in preparation for summer trade. Berths should be ready in June and will accommodate 64 boats up to 38 feet in length. Water depth will be six feet at low tide. Golden Hinde is now an authorized dealer for Johnson outboard motors.

REALTOR William Timmer, who's completely remodeling his offices at Third and B Streets, San Rafael, in the 100-year-old building he bought last year, expects to be in his temporary quarters upstairs for another month. Entrance is around the corner (1204 Third Street). But you'll never recognize the place when it's finished. By arranging to have the Beautiette beauty salon next door transplanted immediately north he's gained twice as much space.

ESCORT PUBLICATIONS of San Francisco that started publishing a non-tourist family leisure guide for Contra Costa and San Mateo counties last year as just added a Marin edition. Most of the material in each Escort is designed for residents in individual areas. The rest is printed in all three. Don Bice of Mill Valley is editor.

Redwood Bark Is Rated Tops

The Redwood Bark, Redwood High School's student newspaper, received an A-plus rating from the National Newspaper Service for schools and colleges, Columbia, Mo.

According to the rating sheet, an A is the highest usual score offered. The special grade of A-plus is awarded to a very few of the leaders in the A category.

"Top jobs in every area of your paper make it one of the best high school papers in the country," the rating service commented.

Women of childbearing age (15 to 44) in 1960 had borne 25 per cent more children on the average than women in the same age group in 1950.

Richardson Bay Filling On Agenda

Strict conditions for filling and grading of Richardson Bay properties will be proposed at a meeting of the Marin County Planning Commission Monday at 9 a.m. in the Civic Center.

Principal Planner Sidney Shaw said proper filling of potential building sites on the bay's tidelands is "absolutely necessary for the desired development of Richardson Bay."

He will ask commissioners to require filling and grading, under an engineer's supervision, for construction of a small office and apartment building opposite Juanita's Galley.

To Attend U.C.

Beverly Jean Sadler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Sadler, Greenbrae, and a Redwood High School senior, has received honors at entrance at University of California.

Planners To Review San Marin

Tentative maps for three new units of the San Marin planned community west of Novato will be reviewed by the Marin County Planning Commission at its meeting at 9 a.m. Monday in the Civic Center.

A total of 419 lots are proposed in the new units, according to principal planner David Van Pelt. Two of the units, on a 69-acre site, will be divided into 361 lots, each of a minimum 7,500 square feet. All are to be used for single-family dwellings. Thirteen new streets are to be built.

The third unit will be divided into 58 lots, with six to be used for apartment houses, one for commercial, and the rest for single-family homes.

The entire development is proposed by Sunset International Petroleum Corp.

No areas other than streets are proposed for public use, Van Pelt said.

Hearings on the proposed subdivisions are scheduled as agenda items 4 and 5.

Commissioners will also review a tentative map for a proposed five-acre subdivision south of Vineyard Road and east of Sutro Avenue near Novato, called Grundstrom Estates. Ten 16,000-square-foot lots are proposed, with one new street.

A proposed minor subdivision ordinance, long-discussed by the commission, will again be reviewed Monday afternoon.

Puppet Show Set At Marin College

A puppet show including performances of "Punch and Judy" and "Coyote" by the Berkeley Puppeteers at 2:30 p.m. May 19 will be the final event in the College of Marin public concert and lecture series in Olney Hall.

Free tickets will be available at the college bookstore from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. and in the adult education office from 7 to 10 p.m., starting Monday, said George B. Duncan III, chairman of the series.

The event is set for a Sunday afternoon so that children as well as adults may attend, said Duncan. Each performance last about 30 minutes.

Seattle Can Win Cup With Victory Over Seals Tonight

The Seattle Totems can take home the Leslie Patrick Cup, symbolic of the Western Hockey League championship, with a victory tonight over San Francisco.

The Totems, who were prevented from playing any of the series on their home rink, have overcome the home ice advantage for a 3-1 lead in the best-of-seven playoffs.

They clearly outclassed the Seals last night with a 3-1 victory that was even more convincing than the score indicated.

The Northern Division champs carried a 3-0 lead into the third period and goalie Al Millar seemed out to gain the first shutout of the four games.

But a freak goal prevented the shutout. Four players ended in a pile in the Seattle goal mouth. When they were unpiled, the puck was discovered in the net and the score was credited to Seal Len Haley.

Millar, who claimed the puck was under his leg and not in the goal, rushed Referee Willie Papp, screamed at the scorekeeper when that did no good, and finished complaining loudly to Seattle Coach Keith Allen by the Totem bench.

Millar missed a shutout in the third game, won by Seattle 9-1, when the Southern Division titlists scored with the Totems two men short because of penalties.

Seattle took a two-goal lead in the first period last night on scores by Bob Sabourin and George Konik. Bill MacFarland scored Seattle's last goal in the second period. All the tallies came on efficient pass plays that left San Francisco goalie Jim McLeod out of position.

RAGING FANS

San Francisco fans, outraged by 10 penalties called against their team, threw all sorts of refuse on the ice, including cardboard cups and coins that froze to ice.

The first two games of the series were no indication of the Seattle superiority of the past pair of contests. The openers both went into overtimes before the issues were decided with each team grabbing one win.

An ice show committment has tied up the Seattle rink, although the Totems have been accorded home team privileges for two of the contests in San Francisco.

Terra Linda Shades Novato In MCAL Tilt

A two-run single in the fourth inning by Bill Lee proved to be the difference yesterday as the Terra Linda Trojans nipped Novato High School 4-3 in MCAL action on Albert Field, San Rafael.

With Terra Linda trailing 3-2 in the bottom of the fourth, Lee stroked a single to drive in Doug Matlock and Dick Schultze. Matlock and Schultze each had singled to get on base.

Terra Linda had got its first two runs in the third inning on a blast from the bat of centerfielder Jerry Daniele which cleared the left centerfield wall for a two-run home run.

Novato's Nick Willard knocked in two of the three Hornets runs. In the first inning Tom Miller cracked a double and was knocked in on a single by Willard. Novato catcher Ron Rowell scored the other Hornet run in the first inning on an error.

The next Novato run came in the top of the third on a double by Willard which put the Hornets in front 3-2. But Lee's single in the fourth put the Trojans out in front to stay.

Line score:

Miller, Fritz (4) and Rowell; Timmel, Matlock (4) and Congdon.

Pebble Beach Golf Course Will Be Closed To Public

PEBBLE BEACH (AP) — The burgeoning mass of public course golfers has reached the cliff-lined shores of Pebble Beach links, forcing the famous and challenging layout to close its tees to the public July 1.

Richard Osborne, president of Del Monte Properties Company, announced yesterday, "steadily increasing use in recent months has evidenced that the course can no longer handle outside play while properly accommodating residents of the Del Monte Forest and guests of the Del Monte Lodge."

Osborne said the California amateur championship and Crosby pro-amateur championship will continue to be played over the 7,701-yard layout, but non-tournament use will be limited to Forest Area residents and guests.

Important News About Imported Scotch

How a sea voyage in its original casks from our Distillery in Scotland creates a Whisky with the unique combination of elegant taste and thrifty price

The art of "gentle-ing" came into being centuries ago when wealthy wine merchants used to send their wines on long ocean voyages in their original casks in order to bring them to their point of perfection. And now the same holds true for House of Stuart Scotch Whisky.

House of Stuart is a blend of 20 of the finest Scotch distillations. It is carefully blended and aged in our distillery in Bowling-By-Glasgow, Scotland. Then—like the wine merchants of old—we send our fine Scotch out to sea in its original casks to be "gentled," and imported to America. As a result of this sea voyage, not only is the taste of House of Stuart improved, but the cost is also considerably less.

You see, since it is shipped in its original casks, House of Stuart does not have to pay the taxes and duties paid by other Scotches that are bottled overseas. This means you pay almost $2.00 less per fifth than many other popular brands. Visit your liquor mart or store and ask for House of Stuart. It's elegant in taste, and thrifty in price because it's shipped in its original casks.

Marichal Hurls For S. F. Tonight

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The injury bug, which confined itself principally to four San Francisco Giants during the 1962 pennant race, has already struck two men and possibly a third with the 1963 season not a month old.

Second baseman Chuck Hiller joined the casualty list in last night's 5-1 victory over Pittsburgh when he injured his left hand making a tag in the second inning and found in his next plate appearance that it was too sore to continue.

Tonight, minus Hiller, third baseman Jim Davenport and without Billy O'Dell taking his regular turn, the Giants will try to pull into a virtual tie for second place with the Pirates.

They will send Juan Marichal, 2-2, against Don Cardwell, 1-2, in the closer of a two-game series.

Davenport is out with a bruised left thumb, injured Monday by a line drive in Philadelphia. O'Dell was supposed to pitch Tuesday's rained out game in Philadelphia, then was slated to go last night.

But the left-hander complained of a "heaviness" in his pitching arm and did not take his turn. Nature of the ailment hasn't been determined. An examination determined that Hiller will miss three or four games.

Jack Sanford was a more-than-adequate substitute, scattering seven Pittsburgh singles while registering his fourth victory against a single loss.

Sanford was knocked out in his last outing and lost the one before, but did not weaken this time in late innings.

Willie McCovey thumped a double and two singles and drove in two of the Giants runs. Felipe Alou and Willie Mays each rapped two singles.

Two singles and a force play produced Pittsburgh's only run in the first inning and the lead held up until the three-run Giants fourth.

Alou's single, an error by shortstop Dick Schofield and Jose Pagan's sacrifice fly scored Cepeda. Sanford survived his worst jam in the fourth when a single and two walks filled the bases.

He went to a 2-0 count on Willie Stargell, hitting for starter and loser Bob Friend, but Stargell went for the next pitch and fouled out for the second out. Then Schofield hit into a force.

The Giants scored twice in the seventh off reliever Tom Sturdivant on Sanford's single, a passed ball, Joe Amalfitano's first hit in 19 at-bats, McCovey's single and a balk.

PAN-AM GAMES

U.S. Gold Medal Total Now At 76

SAO PAULO, Brazil (AP) — Only Yankee strategy which sprung loose a baldling, Irish-bred mite, and a high-flying Sooner with iron muscles kept American track men from a Black Wednesday disaster in the Pan-American Games.

Amidst explosion of four Pan-Am records in five men's events contested yesterday, 5-foot-8, 125-pound Pete McArdle, a 34-year-old New York mechanic, soundly trounced Argentina's defending 10,000-meter champion, Osvaldo Suarez, and Oklahoma's J. D. Martin won the decathlon in record-breaking style.

Otherwise, the Yankees were belted out of the gold medal picture in three of their specialties—the 200-meter sprint, 800-meter run and the 400-meter hurdles—by a Venezuelan, a Canadian and an Argentine.

The track and field forces rested today, awaiting the final 10 men's and four women's events tomorrow and Saturday. Despite yesterday's reverses, the big Yank all-sports battalion counted a whopping total of 76 gold medals with a lot more to come.

McArdle's victory, which came after Canada's Don Bertoia stormed to a record 800-meter triumph and Venezuela's Rafael Romero Sandres won the 200-meter in a photo finish, ruined Suarez' bid for a third successive Pan-Am crown.

McArdle's clocking of 29 minutes, 52.1 seconds broke the Pan-Am record of 30:17.2 set by Suarez in Chicago in 1959.

Decathlon winner Martin, poker-faced, former pole-vault champion from the University of Oklahoma, used his specialty to wrap up the grueling, two-day, 10-event contest.

Martin collected 1,122 vital points by clearing 14 feet, 11¾ inches, and wrecked the bid of the first day leader, Venezuela's Hector Martinez, and Canadian champion, Doug Gairdner.

Lynch Homer Powers Reds To 4-3 Verdict Over Braves

by U. P. INTERNATIONAL

Jerry Lynch, baseball's highest-priced pinch hitter, operates on the theory of all or nothing at all.

Lynch operated that way last night when he blasted the 13th pinch homer of his career to power the Cincinnati Reds to a come-from-behind 4-3 victory over the Milwaukee Braves.

Lynch's homer off loser Lew Burdette with rookie Tom Harper on base in the seventh inning last night was only his second hit of the season in 10 times up. His only other hit also was a pinch hit homer that helped the Reds beat the Giants, 7-4, on April 22.

San Francisco snapped Pittsburgh's four-game winning streak, 5-1, and the Chicago Cubs came out of their batting slump with a 17-hit 13-8 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals.

Rain washed out the game between the Los Angeles Dodgers and Philadelphia and also postponed the Houston Colts-New York Mets game with the Colts leading, 1-0, after three innings.

In the American League, the Kansas City A's crushed the Cleveland Indians, 11-3, the Washington Senators downed the Detroit Tigers, 4-1, the Boston Red Six drubbed the Minnesota Twins, 14-5, the Chicago White Sox swept a twin-bill from the Baltimore Orioles, 7-0 and 6-4, and the Los Angeles Angels defeated the New York Yankees, 5-3.

Drake Baseball Team Wins Sixth Straight

With the help of a three-run triple by pinch-hitter Hap Curley in the third inning, the Drake High School remained undefeated as they swept to their sixth straight Marin Athletic League triumph yesterday, downing Marin Catholic 6-3 on the Pirates' field.

The Wildcats scored the first run in the opening inning on a single by Dave Beswick, the losing pitcher. Drake came back in that opening stanza to score a run on a double by Larry Gerughty.

But then the Drake half of the third inning came along which saw the Pirates score their first run of the frame on a bases-loaded walk. And with the bases still bulging, up walked pinch-hitter Curley who slugged a triple to break the game open and put Drake out in front, 5-1.

The Wildcats added two more runs to the scoreboard in the fourth inning on a two-run error by Gerughty. Drake made up one of the runs in the bottom of the fourth on a double by Lon Gallagher which scored Gerughty who got on base via an error.

Line scores:

Drake	104 100 x—6 6 2

Beswick and Abballo; C. Simontacchi and Hannigan.

In his 15 seasons as Manhattan (New York) College basketball coach, Ken Norton's teams have won 243 games and lost 140.

ALONG MARIN'S SPORTS TRAIL

Top-Flight Semi-Pro Action In Store For Marinites This Month

Marin fans will be treated to some top-flight baseball beginning tonight at Albert Park in San Rafael where the first san Rafael Semi-Pro Invitational Tournament will be played.

A glance at the rosters of the eight teams shows a generous sprinkling of outstanding talent, including several former major and minor league stars.

Marin has three entries — Billings-Hutchison Builders, San Anselmo Merchants and Mill Valley Merchants — along with other Bay Area invitees that include Gateway Chevrolet, Gino Benedetti, Misracks Sporting Goods, Acme of Oakland and Flying Goose Sporting Goods.

Let's look at our local teams first.

The Builders, managed by former pro Joe Anselmo, have tied for the second half championship of the Alameda Winter League. Their lineup features ex-pros Jerry Walters, Larry Smoot, Don Lauters, Al Jacinto and Al Endriss and classy semi-pros in Bob De Rosa, Jerry Scott and Jerry Ard.

Mill Valley, managed by Bob Selna, has come up with a good 1-2 pitching punch in Keith Chapman, former Washington Senators hurler in the 1950s, and Dave Perlis of the College of Marin's present staff. Selna's top hitters should be infielders Fred Shotwell and Dave Wyman.

Manager Pete Maggi of San Anselmo is expected to field a young, aggressive club headed by a fine pitching prospect in Russ Honeyman.

Gino Benedetti — Pitchers Marino Pieretti (Washington Senators) and Ken Kimball (Sacramento), catcher Nini Tornay (Kansas City) and infielder Frank Tornay (Cleveland).

Tourney officials Frank Quinn, Rome Brusati and Joe Rodota deserve credit for lining up an outstanding tournament. Fans should support the tournament to assure its return in future years.

The tournament continues through May 19.

VERNON LAW, who spent a couple of his childhood years in Fairfax, has been recalled by the Pittsburgh Pirates. The pitching hero of the 1960 Pirates' N.L. and World Series championships, troubled the last couple of years by a bum arm, was farmed out to a Class A league team for several weeks where steady work and warm climate apparently helped his arm.

MCAL Track Trials Slated Tomorrow

By RALPH CHATOIAN

At least six varsity records will be in jeopardy tomorrow when the prep trackmen of Marin compete in the trials of the Marin Athletic League track meet scheduled to start at 3:30 p.m. on the Redwood High School oval.

Finals of the league, a prelude to the North Coast Section meet, will be held on May 11. The sectional meet will be held on the following Saturday, May 18.

Eight boys in each event will qualify for the finals which will be held on the San Rafael High School track. For tomorrow's trials, each of the seven schools in the league may enter up to four boys in each event.

In the 100-yard dash, San Rafael's Bob Olsen has already tied the league mark (unofficially) at 10 flat and will be favored to win. Strong competition will come from Marin Catholic's Chuck Hardeman who has run the century this year in 10.1, and Tamalpais' Ellis Williams who has a 10.2 to his credit.

Redwood's Bob Piro has recorded the top time this year in the 220, equaling the league mark of 22.6. San Rafael's Mike Shafer and Williams have been clocked in 22.8.

Shafer, winner of last year's 440 and holder of the record at 49.9, is all alone in the quarter-mile. Hoping for an upset will be Jim Duff (52.1) of Drake and Fred Harris (52.2) of Tam.

In the 880, Harley Miller of Drake has the top time of 2:02 and finished second last year. Pushing Miller will be Bill Gillingham of Tam and Pat Peterson of Redwood.

In the mile, Redwood's star Randy Keller is way ahead of the field with his 4:30.8 clocking. Guy Hester of San Rafael is next in comparative time with 4:43. League record, however, is 4:22.9.

Two top times in the 120-yard high hurdles this year are a 15.3 by Redwood's Tom Strathairn and a 15.5 by Ron Webster of Novato. Strathairn has a clocking of 20.1 and Webster has a time of 20.5 in the 180 lows. League mark is 20.4.

Redwood's 880-yard relay team of Piro, Pete Holter, Dave Auerbach and Strathairn have the top time this year of 1:32.9 which betters the league mark of 1:33.7. This race could also go to either Tam or San Rafael.

In the field events, marks could fall in the pole vault, high jump and broad jump if the boys run to form.

Drake's Tom Farber has vaulted 11-7½ to top the county athletes, and Bill Dimpfl of Redwood has gone 11 feet even. League mark is 11-4½.

Williams of Tam set the broad jump record of 20-9¾ last year when he won the event and Tuesday jumped 20-6½ in a dual meet. Other boys over 20 feet are Hardeman of M.C. (20-9), Steve Solinsky of Redwood (20-6¾) and Harris of Tam (20-0).

The high jump last year was won by Art Foster of Tam at 6-1, but his best this year has been 5-9. Giving him a battle for the top spot will be Henry Solen (6-2) of San Rafael and Strathairn (5-11) of Redwood.

For the weights, Bob Anderson of Redwood and John Miller of Novato have gone over 49 feet this year and Terra Linda's Steve Congdon has gone over 48 feet in the shot put. Redwood's Steve Solinsky has heaved the discus 140 feet and will get stiff competition from Bill Dougherty of Novato and John Hassett of Marin Catholic.

Teamwise, the varsity competition should be between Redwood, San Rafael and Tam.

Class B competition will be strong between Tam, Drake, Terra Linda and Redwood. Best B sprinter has been Drake's Dean Lazzarini who has a 7.7 clocking in the 75 yard dash and a 15.0 in the 150 sprint, both faster than the league marks of 7.9 and 15.3.

Other top competitors in Class B are Redwood's Pack Lindahl in the 660 (1:29.4), E. Sternberg off Terra Linda in the 1320 (3:26.2) and Dave Manuel of Drake in the weights, a shot put of 45-1 and a discus heave of 118-1.

In Class C competition, the team battle should be between San Rafael, Tam and Drake. Top athlete for the small frys is Jeff Chan of San Rafael who has run the 75-yard dash in 8.4, a tenth of a second off the league mark.

Patterson Has Finger Infection

HIGHLAND MILLS, N.Y. (AP) —Former heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson had a date with a doctor today for examination of a finger infection he says won't jeopardize his title bout with Sonny Liston, scheduled for June 27 in Las Vegas.

"I don't think my hand is any worse than Liston's knee," Patterson quipped last night after startling newsmen when he showed up at a boxing show in Union City, N.J., with the hand heavily bandaged.

Novato Golf Team Tops Marin, 5½-½

Ken Marder of Novato tied Marin's Russ Taylor in their match.

Novato now has a 5-1-1 record in the Marin Athletic League.

Rotary Golf Honors Won By Poehlman

Otto Poehlmann, well-known San Rafael druggist, swept both low gross and low net honors Tuesday in a golf tournament for Marin County Rotarians hosted by the San Rafael Rotary Club at the Marin Golf and Country Club.

Poehlmann, Smiley and Gordon Davenport, manager of Pacific Tel and Tel's San Rafael office, won special trophies in competition for San Rafael Rotary members only.

Joe Pepitone, Yankee youngster who will be given the No. 1 shot at first base next season, played the bag in 19 games for the Yankees in 1962. He played the outfield in 32 games.

Bill Meredith Leads School Track Events

Eighth-grader Bill Meredith was the star of the St. Raphael's Dads Club track and field meet at San Rafael High School last Sunday.

Eighty-two boys from St. Raphael's School participated in the 24-event meet. First through sixth graders and eighth graders participated. Boys in the seventh grade did not compete because it was their Confirmation Day.

Meredith won the 75-yard dash, 100-yard dash, running broad jump and baseball throw, and came in second in the standing broad jump. Ken Andrews won the 75 and the running and standing broadjumps to become a triple winner among the sixth grades.

Results were:

New England Mayor Is Named Head Of NBA

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Basketball Assn. has followed the lead of the National Football League by picking a vigorous, new leader to consolidate its status as a major sport. J. Walter Kennedy, 49, the mayor of Stamford, Conn., is the man.

Kennedy will take over Sept. 1 when Maurice Podoloff, 73, retires. Podoloff has guided the league through its many twists and turns over the last 17 years. Two years ago the NFL picked young Pete Rozelle as its commissioner.

Dealing with the nine owners has taxed Podoloff's ingenuity at times. Undoubtedly it also will give Kennedy his share of headaches. However, at a reported $35,000 a year, Kennedy isn't worried.

"Nobody looks for a Utopia because you know you'll never find it. Certainly there will be differences of opinion, but I have known many of these men for 20 or 25 years and they know me. I would not have accepted the job if there were any handcuffs on me."

Kennedy was publicity man for the league when it was known as the Basketball Assn. of America from 1946-49, and for two years after it became the NBA. At various times he has been associated with the Harlem Globetrotters and Little League baseball and was a coach and official in high schools and prep schools in the New England area. From 1943 to 1946 he was publicity director at Notre Dame, his alma mater.

Future Of West Is Called Future Of Entire Nation

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The move to the American West in the past 20 years—the largest migration in the world's history — has produced "a new sub-nation whose future will determine that of the United States."

This view, which will no doubt be disputed by points East, is advanced in a book, "Westward Tilt," published last week by Random House.

The author, Neil Morgan, a San Diego newspaperman, describes the "New West" in great detail, and warns that it will either create a new American dream or produce a sunshine culture characterized by chaos. In either case, "Whatever America is, the West will be more so."

Morgan, born in North Carolina in 1924, settled in the west to stay after getting out of the Navy in 1946. He went to work for the San Diego Evening Tribune, and in 1950 began a daily column, "Assignment West."

"Westward Tilt," an outgrowth of the column, studies the unprecedented westward migration in all of its aspects—political, social, economic and cultural. Morgan attributes this migration to "a modern American phenomenon: A nation so prosperous and so mobile that its people are free to go in search of a more luxurious way of life."

"It is a more orderly migration than most; it does not pour through floodgates because of persecution or famine."

Morgan points out that the West, historically a "citadel of natural resources which has been raided and plundered by the East," is now on the other end of the stick, foraging into the Midwest, the East and the South for scientists, teachers, industrialists and technicians.

Some of Morgan's observations:

Los Angeles—" . . . the center of gravity in the westward tilt . . . underrated . . . it has become more interested in quality than in quantity . . ."

San Francisco—" . . . the narcissus of the West . . . Samson-like, it seems ready to pull in its temple atop itself . . . even tainted as it is with narcissism, the conformity of San Francisco is more interesting than are the wilder sprees of most cities . . ."

Southern California—" . . . they (Southern Californians) are not the most sophisticated of Americans, but they are among the most vigorous . . . they live on the land, but they are not of the land . . ."

Northern California—" . . . A vast and virile world of redwood and rain forest, volcano and glacier, fog-cloaked seacliff and searing desert . . . there is yet space. To expect that it will remain is like betting into a straight flush . . ."

Oregon . . . "A New England heritage . . . nothing has caught on and stuck as a symbol of the character of the state . . ."

Washington—" . . . Despite the economic fallacies of its past, Washington has economic aces up its sleeves which . . . are likely to facilitate a massive growth in population . . . Seattle is the newest major city in the land . . ."

Idaho, Montana, Wyoming—" . . . Serve as a counterpoint to the theme of change in the other eight states of the west . . . bound together by the almost aggressive reluctance of most of their people to sacrifice their affinity with the land and the past . . ."

Nevada—" . . . a tale of two cities. Three of every four Nevadans live in or just outside Las Vegas or Reno. In mood, the two cities parallel the two major California cities. Los Angeles goes to Las Vegas; San Francisco goes to Reno . . ."

New Mexico—" . . . a place of tourist joys and of balm to the tubercular . . . schizoid" (on the subject of its nuclear economy).

New MAYTAG Highlander Dryer with Electronic Control

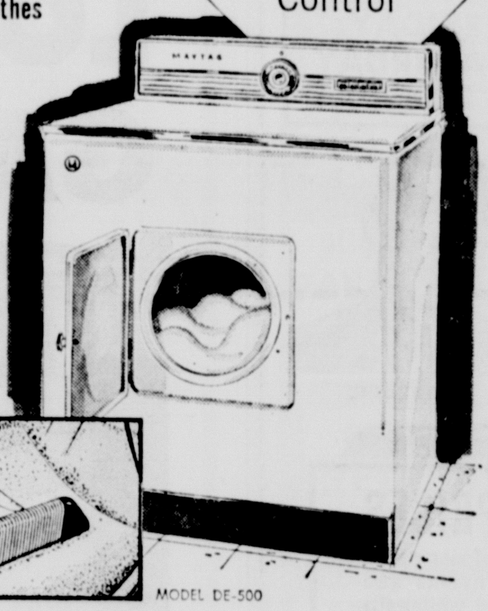
This is America's most advanced dryer! A totally different kind of dryer that won't overdry, won't bake in wrinkles. No matter what the load, clothes come out fluffy and soft, needing far less ironing.

Push the button that describes the results you want. The new Highlander Electronic Control Dryer has buttons for Regular Fabrics, Wash 'n Wears—even a button for Damp Dry. And, if you have drapes or pillows to be dusted or fluffed out, push the button marked "Air Fluff."



72 electronic "fingers" on the baffles in the drum measure the moisture in your clothes. When they're dried exactly right, off goes the heat! This means softer clothes with less wrinkles and makes ironing easier and faster.

Millwood Unit Barn Dance Set Saturday

Members of the Millwood Unit of the Marin Foundation of Friends of Arequipa will stage their 10th annual barn dance Saturday evening at the Outdoor Art Clubhouse in Mill Valley.

Mrs. John P. Gatfield, general chairman, is being assisted by Mrs. Bruno Maraccini, dance chairman, and Mrs. Henry Eckhard, decorations chairman.

Festivities will open with cocktails served at 7:30 o'clock under the supervision of Mrs. Lee Johnson, and the roast beef dinner at 8:30 p.m., will be prepared by Mrs. Frank Keane and her committee. There will be dancing from 10 p.m. to 1 a.m.

4-H Goes Urban

CHICAGO (UPI)—Four-H clubs are moving into towns and cities. Nearly two of every five members now live in a city. Only one of every two lives on a farm, the National 4-H Service Committee reports.

Jacqueline Carpenter To Marry

The engagement of Jacquelin Lee Carpenter of Santa Rosa to Oscar Charles La Bouliere of Sonoma has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Georgre T. Carpenter of Santa Rosa, who lived in Marin County for 42 years.

The future bride, employed with Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. in Santa Rosa, was graduated from Novato High School, Marinello Beauty College and attended College of Marin.

The future benedict is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph O. La Bouliere of Onset, Mass. He was graduated from Wareham High School and is serving as communications technician third class with the US Navy at the US Naval Radio Station at Skaggs Island, Sonoma.

MARIN'S SOCIAL WHIRL

Paul Spenglers Being Feted On Arrival From Hawaii

By FLORENCE DONNELLY

Paul and Celia Spengler are returning to Ross for a brief visit. It will be their first time together in the mainland states since they left a year and a half ago to make their home in Hawaii. The Spenglers are flying in from the islands Saturday arriving early in the morning. For them that night Mr. and Mrs. Frank Paganini of Ross are giving a cocktail party. They've invited about 50 close friends of the Spenglers.

Paul and Celia will stay at the guest house on the Ross estate of Mr. and Mrs. William Carew, which is the home of her parents, the Arthur Allens, who are in Hawaii now. The Allens divide their year between Ross and Honolulu

The Spenglers will return to Hawaii May 18. Paul will go east on business for a short time but Celia will remain in Marin. Both were members of the Meadow Club and excelled on its golf course. The club will be the setting for the bridge luncheon Mrs. Jack Cooper and Mrs. Edwin Christie both of San Rafael are giving for Celia May 10 at which there will be about 75 guests.

FRANK YORKIS of Hill Haven, an expert hunter, provided the wild ducks for the no-host dinner given Saturday night at the Loch Lomond home of the John Clancys. Gerald Frellson roasted the ducks to perfection. Others at the dinner were Mr. and Mrs. John Sais, Mr. and Mrs. Urban Morf, Mrs. Frelison, Mrs. Yorkis and Claudia Misner.

JO ANNE MISNER was honored at a bridal shower and tea given by Mrs. Joseph Wittenmeier Saturday at the Wittenmeiers' new home in Mill Valley. Jo Anne will become the bride of Edward C. Wuelfing of Oakland May 30.

Attending were Mesdames Robert Huber, Manuel Gomez, John Gatfield, Louis Rilla, Jack Doughty, John V. Hughes, Gordon Harrington, Charles Walker; the mother of the bride-elect, Mrs. Gerald Misner, and Ed's mother and sister, Mesdames Edward Wuelfing and Willard Pearce of Oakland, Mrs. E. W. Henderson of San Leandro and Misses Carole Perelli-Minetti, Suzanne Adam, Kathy Marconi and Mary Catherine and Elizabeth Ann Yore.

Assisting Mrs. Wittenmeier with serving were her two daughters, Gayle and Gwen Wittenmeier and the sisters of the bride-elect, Geraldine and Claudia Misner.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Misner of San Anselmo will give a cocktail party Saturday at their San Anselmo home honoring Mr. and Mrs. William Keeler of Mill Valley.

The purpose of the party is to introduce the Keelers, who now live in the Misners' former home, to their neighbors on Ethel Avenue in Mill Valley. It will also be an opportunity for the Misners' former neighbors to see their new home in San Anselmo.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Walton will give their annual "Day in the Country" party Sunday at their home in Forestville. The Waltons' first camp for boys was at Lagunitas in Marin County. They are now owners and directors of Waltons' Grizzly Lodge, a mountain camp for boys, in Plumas County, in the Feather River country. Campers and their families will attend Sunday's event which will be a fun day with a barbecue luncheon. Many of the young people who first camped in Marin County with the Waltons will attend.

DINNER PARTIES will precede the performance of Hit the Deck by the Ross Valley Players Saturday night. That night's performance is sponsored by Redwood Chapter of American Field Service.

Mrs. George Banning, president of the chapter, and her husband are giving a dinner at their Belvedere home. Guests will be Messrs. and Mesdames George Coleman, Leslie Daggett, Joseph Marshall and Elmo DeMartini. At the dinner Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Eddy of Ross are giving will be Dr. and Mrs. Arnold Nutting, Messrs. and Mesdames John McInnis, William Cassidy and Samuel Crowell.

Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Rothrock of Ross will have as their dinner guests his mother, Mrs. V. W. Rothrock, who has been visiting here since Easter week and leaves for her home in Billings, Mont. Sunday night. Messrs. and Mesdames Robert Goshen, Furman Bradway, L. G. Maclise, John McGee and Carl Carlson.

Marin General Volunteers Name Officers

Mrs. L. W. Soden of San Rafael, a Pink Lady for the past three and a half years, was elected president of the Marin General Hospital In-Service Volunteers for 1963-64.

The election of Mrs. Soden and five other officers was a feature of the annual meeting yesterday of the In-Service Volunteers at Peacock Gap Golf Club.

OTHERS WHO were elected are Mesdames James Dorais of Greenbrae, vice president; Lee Marriott, San Rafael, treasurer; James Goodale, San Rafael, recording secretary, and S. Grant Lippitt Jr., Mill Valley, corresponding secretary, and Allan Gilman, Greenbrae, parliamentarian.

Guest speaker at the meeting was Mrs. Ralston W. Hodgson of Ross, director of the Ballet Aquacade which is slated for June 8-9 this year, and which will donate all proceeds to Marin General Hospital.

MRS. ALLAN W. GILMAN of Ross, outgoing president, opened the meeting which follower a social hour and luncheon. After the election, Mrs. Dorais presided as program chairman.

Chairman of the nominating committee was Mrs. Robert McKendry of Ross.

NEW PRESIDENT Barbara Soden, mother of four, joined the volunteers in October, 1959, and has totaled more than 1,000 hours of service. She has served as vice president and membership chairman, as baby photo chairman and as desk supervisor.

Vice president Gertrude Dorais, with five children to supervise, also has totaled more than 1,000 hours of service since joining the Pink Ladies in April, 1959. She has been desk supervisor, television chairman and assistant chairman of the gift shop.

SUZANNE MARRIOTT, beginning her fourth year as treasurer, has more than 2,600 hours of service with the Pink Ladies since 1952. Jewelle Goodale, serving a second term as recording secretary, also joined the volunteers in 1952 and has chalked up some 2,300 hours.

Recording Secretary Peggie Lippitt, who has served as an instructor of Pink Ladies, joined in October, 1960, and also has been a desk supervisor. She has two children. Dorothy Gilman, last year's president and new parliamentarian, was In-Service vice president before that, and has been baby photo chairman. She became a Pink Lady in 1956.

OFFICERS OF THE VOLUNTEERS

No Summa Cum Laude For Bouffant Hairdo

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor

NEW YORK, May 2 (UPI) — There's no Summa Cum Laude for the bouffant hairdo from those who supply mortarboards for girl graduates.

The teen-ager with the big head on graduation day is just a headache to the cap and gown suppliers, industry sources said today. They would like to see the hair tamed just for that one event in a girl's life anyway.

And one supplier has gone so far as to publish a brochure for high schools, suggesting various hair styles best suited for the mortarboard.

"THE BOUFFANT'S a major problem," said John Barbera, sales administrator of the E. R. Moore Co., which produced the brochure. "We talk down teasing, and hope the girls will be conservative at least for that one important hour in their lives."

"On graduation day the bouffant's gotta go," said Philip Gelvin, executive vice president of the Collegiate Cap and Gown Co.

"Ten or 15 years ago, a boy of six feet two inches on the basketball team was a giant," said Gelvin. "Today, they're six feet seven, eight and nine and nobody thinks anything about it."

Major changes for the whole industry are in the riot of new colors for the high school graduate, the new fabrics in lighter weights for scholars of all ages, and a demand now for caps and gowns right down to the kindergarten level.

Gelvin's firm listed more than two dozen colors ranging from black, navy, and maroon to white, rich purple, brilliant gold, scarlet red, several shades of greens and blues, and smoke gray. The bright and light colors for the halls of ivy are a result of the nation's whole consciousness of color, said Gelvin. "You see it in homes, in the cars."

Fabrics have moved from the traditional serge, worsted and poplin into synthetics such as dacron and nylon.

Air Force's Huskie Copter Puts You On Cushion Of Air

By THERON A. NEWELL

However, this flight was different than any other I had ever taken. Now I could take time to study the details of the landscape below me. We could remain absolutely motionless, hovering above any spot that we wanted to examine.

This was an orientation flight in the new RX turbo-jet HH-43B or Huskie helicopter, assigned to the 41st Air Rescue Squadron at Hamilton Air Force Base.

Prior to uor flight, Lt. Col. Edward Krafka, squadron commander, had given us a briefing on the history of air rescue operations since the battle of Dunkirk during World War II.

We were shown a film on how the Huskie could be used in fighting fires. Krafka told us that nearly three-quarters of all airplane crashes occur within 10 miles on an airport. Having a helicopter that can rush to plane crash sites is of great importance.

The Huskie has the ability to hover over a burning aircraft and blow the flames earthward, making a path into to burning plane so that fire fighters can rescue anyone trapped inside the plane.

Auxiliary equipment includes a 1,000-pound package of fire fighting equipment. In event of a plane crash, the helicopter picks up the firemen and then the fire fighting apparatus. This is slung on the underside of the 'copter by a special fastening mechanism that will automatically release when it touches the ground.

This ability to fight fires and the power driven sling make it an ideal craft for all types of rescue work.

The men of the 41st Squadron are on 24-hour alert for all emergencies. They can scramble a plane, or get it flying, in three minutes. At the time of a recent crash at Travis Air Force Base, they were airborne in less than two minutes.

This turbo-jet helicopter weighs 4,500 pounds. It can lift an inside load of 8,000 pounds plus an added 1,000 pounds of attached fire fighting equipment, or double its own weight.

The flexible rotor blades are made out of laminated spruce wood. Metal cannot stand the constant flexing of the twin rotors of this plane. The blades cost $14,000 per set or $28,000 for the twin rotors.

Capt. Hoyt Hurt was our pilot for the flight. Smilingly he assured us that it would be a safe flight as it was his 30th birthday and he wanted to come back to celebrate it.

Of course we were given the usual warnings about staying clear of the downsweeping blades as "they could give you a haircut down to your knees."

There is a very definite "bounce" while the plane is being warmed up before it leaves the ground. However, once aloft, it rides on a cushion of air.

We hovered at five feet, then taxied at that height to a spot designated as the "heliport" at Hamilton. Our pilot showed us how he could turn at any angle he wanted to get a better view of the world ahead and below us.

A short hop out and up to the end of the runway demonstrated how the craft could go up at any angle. Then Captain Hurt showed us the ability of the craft to land on any spot. He brought it down on a small concrete pad. Then he picked it up, hovered, flew to the right, thento the left, forward and backward without changing altitude.

We then circled Hamilton Air Force Base and southern Novato where we were able to stop and look at anything we wanted to see better or longer.

A year ago, I broke the sound barrier in an F-101 Voodoo fighter, flown by Lt. Col. Marvin Good, commander of the 84th Fighter Interceptor Squadron. Now I have gone to the other extreme and flown at a complete standstill in the air.

Both types of planes are necessary for the protection of the people of the Bay Area. However, the Air Rescue pilots have one distinction. The fighter pilots train for war, but the Air Rescue pilots perform their mission in peacetime.

EXAMINING THE CONTROLS—Reporter Theron Newell gets a "briefing" on the controls of the new HH-43B or Huskie helicopter from Capt. Hoyt Hurt, pilot. (Air Force photo)

Cezanne Drawings In Controversy

NEW YORK (AP)—Four pen and pencil drawings by Paul Cezanne, the late French artist, bought for $20 each and now worth up to $8,000 apiece, have become the center of an international controversy.

The drawings had been the property of the Louvre Museum in Paris. Last November they fell into the hands of the FBI. But during at least eight years that they were missing, the Louvre reportedly did not even know they were gone.

That's one aspect of the mystery. The other is: How did they disappear from the Louvre in the first place?

The FBI says it is investigating, but will give no details.

The American artist who disclosed the matter, Harry Jackson, 39, a native of Meeteetse, Wyo., says he purchased the drawings in September, 1954, from a man he believed to be the caretaker of the Cezanne Studio, made into a little art museum in Aix-en-Provene, France.

Last November, Jackson, living in New York, decided to sell three of the drawings and keep one for himself.

Art historian John Rewald of New York, appraising the drawings to find out if they were indeed Cezannes, called the Louvre and substantiated that the four were missing, without the museum's knowledge.

Rewald called the FBI, which has the four sketches.

Jackson wants them back. So does the Louvre.

Army Colonel Retires After 23-Year Career

Col. Mark E. Cory of Mill Valley retired Tuesday after 23 years of Army service.

Cory, who lives with his wife and son, Gregory, at 7 Robertson Terrace, was presented with the Army Commendation Medal prior to his retirement. He served most recently as deputy assistant chief of staff in 15th Corps headquarters at the Presidio of San Francisco.

A native of San Francisco, he entered the Army in 1940 and participated in the World War II invasions of Africa, Sicily and Italy with the Seventh Infantry Regiment. He has also served in Greece, as a battalion commander in the 45th Infantry Division in South Korea, and in Japan and Germany.

Assault Charged By Revenue Aide

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Fred R. Vilncent, Salinas restaurant owner, was indicted yesterday by a federal grand jury on a charge of assaulting an Internal Revenue Service investigator with a knife.

Agent Robert Bereta, of the San Jose office, was in the restaurant checking an income tax return with Vincent's son, Clifford.

James J. Brosnahan Jr., assistant U.S. attorney said the elder Vincent used abusive language to Bereta, and chased the investigator to his car, with a knife in his hand. The incident occurred April 22.

West Novato Assn. Chairman Elected

Jack Burgi, owner of the Indian Valley Nursery, was elected board chairman of the West Novato Assn. last week as members agreed to incorporate and back a strong fight to prevent Indian Valley from falling prey to "the subdivider's shovel."

Work On Streets Starts In Novato

Reconstruction of Rowland Boulevard and other Novato streets which have been broken by heavy dirt truck traffic of recent weeks started yesterday, announced Julien Baget, city administrator.

Several residents of Rowland Boulevard and Cambridge Street tried to attend a closed session of the city council Tuesday night but were turned away. They said that they wanted to take up the matter of the trucks breaking the street.

Yesterday Baget reported repairs and reconstruction, where necessary, will be completed in three to four weeks at no cost to the property owners.

SERVING ALL OF MARIN COUNTY

TODAY'S EDITORIAL

State Could Help Local Libraries Be Much Better

Already passed the Assembly and facing an uncertain future in the State Senate is a bill about which we in Marin County have had some experience and so should be better qualified than some to judge how well it might work.

We are referring to the Public Library Services Bill, AB 590. The bill is designed to encourage local libraries to form cooperative associations so that the service of any one library can be multiplied many times with a minimum of expense.

The reason that we in Marin have specific experience is the active participation of the Marin County Library, the Mill Valley and Sausalito libraries in the North Bay Cooperative Library System. This system was established about three years ago by libraries in Marin, Sonoma, Napa, Solano, Lake and Mendocino counties, with the aid of a federal grant. Seventeen libraries participate.

Working through a board on which each library is represented, the 17 have cooperated in book purchase, cataloging, interlibrary borrowing, storage, a film pool and other activities. Teletypes connect the major libraries with each other and the State Library in Sacramento, making possible quick exchange of information on books and films, facilitating book purchase or borrowing, and, in fact, making the facilities of all 17 libraries available to the users of each one.

Those who have been working with the system are enthusiastic, not only of what has been done, but also what can be done in the future.

AB 590 is designed to encourage this type of activity throughout the state. It would assure continuation of the North Bay system after federal funds are exhausted.

We aren't lightly recommending the establishment of a new state agency, the Public Library Development Board, which would come into being under the bill. Neither are we unaware of the added cost to the taxpayers—$850,000 in the proposed 1963-64 budget and a ceiling written into the bill of approximately $4 million.

Yet to us, this is one place where a larger agency, like the state, can take action assuring better use of local facilities without local agencies losing control. This is all to the good.

So we join with Gov. Edmund G. Brown in calling for passage of AB 590. We urge our own senator, John F. McCarthy, to vote for the bill when it comes before him as a member of the Senate Governmental Efficiency Committee, as did our Assemblyman William T. Bagley when it was in the Assembly.

THREE MINUTES A DAY

EGG TIMERS CHECK TELEPHONE

Employees are instructed to put one to work, each time they make a telephone call. Results prove that this practice helps to keep their conversations brief.

An official said that the psychological effect of sand running from the top glass to the bottom glass "has a great impact on the telephone user."

Don't wait for someone to check you on the way you spend your time. Become your own time-watcher and you will realize, as Thomas Fuller said, that "those that make the best use of their time have none to spare."

The years of this life are short at best. But they provide you with the only opportunity that you will ever have to get ready for eternity.

Use them well so that you will merit the endless joys that God has prepared for those who love Him above all things, and their fellow men as themselves.

"A thousand years in Your sight are as yesterday." (Psalm 89:4)

Thanks to You, O bountiful Father, for entrusting to me enough time to prove my love for You.

THE LIGHTER SIDE

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Double jeopardy is unconstitutional, but one form of it has been flourishing lately. Let me give you an example.

As I was driving home from work the other evening, I turned on my car radio just in time to hear someone making a shambles out of "I'll Get By," one of my favorite tunes.

Curiosity overcame my dial-switching impulse and I held on to the bitter end to see if the disc jockey in charge would identify the culprit. He did.

He said the recording had been committed by a fellow from the television program "Bonanza."

Now I lead a rather sheltered life and that program had somehow escaped my notice. I assumed from its title that it was some sort of give-away.

But when I got home I learned I had leaped to the wrong conclusion. My teen-age daughter, who sees all, knows all and tells all where television is concerned, told me that "Bonanza" is a western.

Furthermore, she said the chap I had heard undermining "I'll Get By" plays the part of a ranch owner. That astonished me.

Judging from his voice, I would have guessed that he played the part of a stampede.

Anyway, this is what I mean by double jeopardy. If you miss 'em on television they will get you with a record album.

All sorts of wanderers of Newton Minow's wasteland are cutting records these days. Ben Casey sings and Dr. Kildare sings, to mention a couple. Their albums have helped popularize laryngitis.

ANOTHER SINGING television actor is George Maharis, late of the program "Route 66." A record-plugging tour brought him to Washington recently and I took the occasion to examine this peculiar cultural manifestation at close range.

In cashing in on whatever it is that prompts a television fan to buy an actor's vocal album, Maharis had to overcome a rather severe handicap. He once took singing lessons.

FORTUNATELY, he developed a throat condition that forced him to stop singing. His croaky voice was ideally suited to the "method school" of acting, however, so he turned to the theater.

Being both an actor and a non-singer, he could have become a big recording star. But unfortunately, his voice came back.

Hysterical Talk On Reappraisals

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Since your "500 per cent" and the following "Recall" headlines, I have heard some rather fantastic, hysterical conversations on the subject.

Bert Broemmel, in reassessing property, has followed principles established by the Board of Equalization, and if in so doing certain properties have been raised 500 per cent, it indicates not that Mr. Broemmel is unfair to the owners involved, but that circumstances (or Mr. Broemmel's predecessor) have for years been unfair to the rest of us by allowing valuable property, especially land, to get by without bearing its share of the cost of county government.

It seems to me that downtown San Rafael has lost its shanties and is acquiring a number of new buildings. One very strong impetus to this activity has been the reassessment program.

Anyone who does not understand the simple principles of the balance of taxation and speculation should keep his mouth shut about "recall."

Truth Suppressed In Marin Courts

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Samuel K. Gardiner,
Attorney,
San Rafael

Your five-minute speech at San Rafael Rotary Club April 29, introduced May 1 as "Law Day." You said and I quote: "Law is the reflection of the character and consensus of the public so that we may progress."

If public records of Marin court cases reveal that truth supported by documentary and testimonial evidence is suppressed and disregarded, we then have legalized mockery of the social justice demanded by Society.

Past decisions are precendential guides in consideration of future decisions. We accept then, that our public records can prove May 1 as the day we recognize "Law is the most lawless force that Society must face as opposition to their progress."

Your answer to this is invited through letters to the editor of the Independent-Journal to develop a well informed public regarding "Law Day." I will be glad to respond if you provide the challenge in respect, for the interest of order in Society.

Students Have Minds Too

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

As an adult of almost ancient vintage, as the parent of two daughters, and as a frequent visitor to the high schools of both the San Rafael and Tamalpais districts, I am appreciative of the area of physical underpinning now the subject of such intensive survey.

Additionally, as a teacher, I am even more aware of the often more magnificent mental underpinning of the same students. I hope this area of their achievement will receive equally as intensive investigation and credit publicly.

REMEMBER WHEN?

10 YEARS AGO

District Atty. William O. Weissich filed suit on behalf of Marin County against Sheriff Walter Sellmer for recovery of $811.70 taken from vending machines in the courthouse basement but not used for the "benefit, education and welfare of inmates of the jail."

20 YEARS AGO

Women air raid wardens started a San Rafael civil defense canvass to assist in proper allocation of food.

New pipe lines of Marin Municipal Water District were installed in Sun Valley, San Rafael; Mill Valley; and at the Naval Net Depot on the Tiburon Peninsula.

The California Taxpayers Assn. revealed that 703 persons in Marin County were receiving old age assistance, a 7 per cent drop from 1942.

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

How are we going to dissuade military generals from writing their memoirs? There was a top-drawer military reception in Washington recently at which Prime Minister Macmillan of Britain encountered Former President Eisenhower. "I dare say you've never seen so many generals in one place in your life before, eh, Harold?" ventured the former President. "Indeed I have," contradicted Mr. Macmillan, "but I've never seen so many authors!"

Perian Conerly, lovely wife of Charlie Conerly, great football star of yesteryear, tells in her spirited book, "Backseat Quarterback," of the time one of Conerly's teammates broke into the gossip columns by romancing a famous Hollywood pin-up girl. A wit posted this notice on the Giants' bulletin board: "Miss So-and-So learned more defensive maneuvers in one evening than our amorous back was able to absorb in two whole years as a pro."

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By FRED WYATT

If Fire Chief Nelson Is Suspended, What About Police Chief Nelson?

Whether to execute a recommendation to suspend Fire Chief Frank Nelson for 10 days without pay for putting out that Marin Joe's fire on the edge of town is due on the Corte Madera Town Council agenda Monday night.

Mayor Edward W. Colthurst referred Town Mgr. Arthur H. Bandow's recommendation to the council's fire committee.

1. "THE LINE MUST be drawn" beyond which local men will ignore blazes.

2. Working in county territory is "unfair to local taxpayers."

3. Insurance doesn't cover extra-territorial firefighting.

4. "The county fire department is state-supported and is equipped mostly to protect watersheds, not fight city fires, and shouldn't get a free ride."

Nelson, not present when Brandow threw his verbal bomb April 15, mused later: "Since I'm also police chief I'm a two-headed monster. Which head gets temporarily cut off?"

NELSON ADDED that as police chief he recently returned two lost tots to their panic-stricken mother, also on the edge of town, after they toddled onto the Corte Madera interchange bridge.

Should he have delivered the kids instead to Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos in San Rafael or fed them gumdrops in the station house until Lou sent a deputy?

Kidding aside, Nelson reports he's making new calls to get certain Meadowsweet and hill areas, virtual islands amidst town territory, to seek annexation.

SUNDAY CALENDAR: Ex-drunks made way for frog jumping at 1:30 p.m. in Sabella's in Mill Valley. As AAs adjourned their weekly breakfast, a new crowd thronged in: Parents and kids — with a gunnysack full of frogs.

Sunday evening found scores at the annual membership meeting of the Marin Council for Civic Affairs (nee Citizens to Save the Civic Center) in the elegant supervisors chamber of the Civic Center.

KIND WORDS were spoken at the meeting for Supervisor William D. Fusselman, who in 1961 had work on the center stopped for one week.

Margaret Azevedo praised him for a recent action. Later she told how her grandmother stuffed paper in sockets "to keep the electricity from leaking" when her house was wired many years ago. Said Mrs. Azevedo:

"Mr. Fusselman wouldn't stuff paper in sockets."

THE ALLEN-SCOTT REPORT

Kennedy Annoyed By 'Fixation' On Cuba

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON—President Kennedy is very annoyed at the country's "fixation" on Cuba.

And he is passing up no chances to let White House callers know about his vexation, whether they are newspaper editors, members of Congress, or visiting politicians.

In these private talks, the President stresses, "There are far more dangerous situations facing the U.S. in a number of other Latin American nations." Usually he singles out Brazil and Argentina as being more explosive than Cuba.

"THIS COUNTRY'S fixation on Cuba disturbs me," the President complained to one group. "We can liquidate Castro at any time, but if we did a lot of innocent people in Cuba would get hurt. Military action is not the answer."

Most significantly, the President tells his callers that, "As long as I am President, it will be our policy to balance the risk of military action in Cuba with what the Communists might do in other areas of the world if we used force there."

When the nagging question of setting up an anti-Castro government-in-exile is brought up, as usually happens, the President is emphatic in his opposition.

"EXPERIENCE SHOWS that these governments in exile never return home," he argues, "and their leaders neither represent nor enjoy the support of the people who remained."

"I have never favored an invasion of Cuba by U.S. troops since I became President, he says, "nor did former President Eisenhower."

Nothing further is said about this startling claim. The President adds no details to support it, and so far none of his hearers are known to have asked him to clarify it.

In comparing U.S. and Soviet victories in the long and tortuous cold war, the President vigorously argues that, "With the exception of Cuba, Russia has made no noticeable gains in the past two years."

Looking ahead, he foresees an aggressive and reckless Communist China becoming "a major danger to U.S. security during my term of office."

The President warns that, "The Chinese Communists could become more dangerous than Russia, because they are willing to accept major risks of a nuclear war in pushing their objectives." The President believes Peiping's development of nuclear weapons in the not-distant future will increase Chinese prestige in the Asian subcontinent from India to South Vietnam.

SECRETARY OF STATE Rusk, in his private briefings on Cuba, appears at times to be basing his comments on information that is quite different from that expounded by the President.

"Although we believe there are fewer troops coming in now than are going out," said Rusk, "our evidence shows the Russians are rotating their forces in Cuba."

AS FOR THE number still there, Rusk frankly acknowledged that the administration is uncertain—although at the very same time the President was insisting the total was around 12,000.

"We don't know the exact number of Russians in Cuba," Rusk told his callers. Then, noticing several members of Congress, he added: "If any of you gentlemen know how many troops there are, we would like to have your information."

HOW TO PLAY WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

It's Astonishing How 'Good' Players Get All Bad Cards!

I'm always astonished to hear how many bridge players hold less than their rightful share of the cards.

They're very good players, of course, and they'd surely win regularly if they could only hold a few high cards now and then. Still, they might protect themselves a trifle better while they're waiting for the luck to change.

Opening lead — ◇ K

South ruffed the next diamond, drew trumps, and tried a heart finesse.

HAD REST

West could get his two heart tricks, but then South had the rest for game and rubber.

East turned to a kibitzer and shook his head dolefully. "One ace was all I could pick up," he complained. "Where are all these kings and queens people talk about?"

The kibitzer was sympathetic, but he didn't say all that was in his mind. East had thrown away hundreds of points on this very hand.

OMISSION

East hadn't done anything terrible; he had just failed to do something good, and this failure had cost him dearly.

The ace is no better than West's king, but East must get the lead into his hand, and this may be his only chance to do so.

DECISIVE PLAY

East must make this decisive play to return a heart at the second trick. West takes his two heart tricks and leads a third heart for East to ruff.

In 1933, Adolf Hitler abolished labor unions throughout Germany and created a so-called "labor front" to control all German workers.

Today is Thursday, May 2, the 122nd day of 1963 with 243 to follow.

The moon is approaching full phase. The morning stars are Venus and Saturn. The evening stars are Mercury and Mars.

On this day in history:

In 1945, the Allies announced the unconditional surrender of Nazi troops in Italy and southern and western Austria.

A thought for the day—St. Thomas Aquinas said: "Three things are necessary for the salvation of man. To know what he ought to believe; to know what he ought to desire, and to know what he ought to do."

Social Diseases In California Going Up At Alarming Rate

VAN DELLEN

We continue to read about the marked increase in venereal diseases in many parts of the country. In California, for example, these infections represent the main communicable disease problem, outranking streptococcal infections, measles, and mumps.

The statistics on syphilis are startling but, to be fully appreciated, we have to go back to 1947, when there were 106,539 new cases of primary and secondary syphilis. Penicillin became available and the number dropped, reaching the low point of 6,251 in 1957. Since then the cases have gone up and 21,143 were reported in 1962. This is not alarming compared with the 106,539 rate in 1947, but the rising incidence is of great concern.

WE KNOW that statistics on these maladies are inaccurate and, for every reported case, at least two patients are not reported. This has been going on for some time because of the stigma associated with these ailments. The physican tries to protect his patient. But, by failing to report, our health departments are prevented from treating the source and removing a reservoir that will infect others.

The irony of the situation is that we have many good treatments. Some might regard this as a drawback because an easy cure encourges sexual promiscuity. But the causative micro-organism are not created by licit or illicit love; immorality is an age-old problem that has outsmarted mankind for centuries.

THE ONLY solution goes back to the patient and the physican. The patient must be willing to tell all so that the origin of the infection can be stamped out as soon as possible.

It is not always easy to trace the source of a syphilitic infection, especially when hundreds have been exposed. Nevertheless, this is the only way those harboring the venereal germs can be ferreted out and treated. Now and then these men and women don't know they have the disease and are thankful to receive treatment.

(Dr. Van Dellen wil answer questions on medical dressed envelope accompanied topics if stamped, self-addnies request)

ATTACKS OF TONSILITIS

Mrs. C. S. writes: My husband and I have a lot of trouble with sore throats and tonsilitis. When we were children, the family doctor told our parents to have our tonsils out, but they refused. Do you think we should have them removed now?

REPLY

Possibly, but the physician who advises you on such a question ought to have first-hand information on the appearance of the tonsils.

CALCIUM INTAKE

Mrs. G. writes: If milk, cheese, and eggs are eliminated from an allergic child's diet, how will he get enough calcium?

REPLY

By eating other foods that contain this mineral (fruits, vegetables, whole wheat, nuts and lean beef). In addition, the diet may be supplemented with calcium gluconate or other calcium products, if necessary.

EMPHYSEMA AND SMOKING

T. D. writes: Is emphysema caused by smoking? If so, does this disease ever develop in nonsmokers?

REPLY

Chronic bronchitis is the most frequent cause. While smoking is responsible in a high percentage of victims of emphysema, infections and allergy also play a role.

UNUSUAL COMBINATION

E. C. writes: Can a baby be a mongoloid and a cretin at the same time?

REPLY

Possible, but rare. Occasionally one may be mistaken for the other, which creates confusion. The causes differ.

How Firm Business Pickup Is Should Be Clearer Soon

By DELOS SMITH

NEW YORK (UPI)—After more than 20 years of studying the growth behavior of his own left thumbnail, the medical scientist, Dr. William B. Bean is noting a slow-down which he attributes to aging.

On the first day of every month since 1942 he has filed a groove into the nail at its base. Slowly but relentlessly as the nail grew, this "marker" groove moved outward.

Now that Bean is 53 years old, it is taking a month longer than it used to take for each "marker" to grow to the nail's edge.

"This objective evidence of a slowing in the process of nail growth has occurred at a time when I was not conscious of the general encroachment of old age in terms of those activities I could measure or count," said Bean in reporting to fellow scientists.

Scientists commonly keep their nails short, like piano players, to prevent them from becoming obstacles in their work. Bean has restricted the length of his left thumbnail to three-fifths of an inch from base to edge.

Twenty years ago it took an average of 117 days for the new nail to grow outward from the base to the edge. This consistent growth time gave way to one equally consistent and this one required 122 to 126 days for the same amount of growth.

In the last three years, Bean continued, the slowing of growth has steadily incerased —from 133 days to 136 days to 138 days. It used to be there were four grooves in his nail when he filed in a new one at the base on the first day of the new month. Now there are five.

Over the 20 years Bean's nail grew at approximately the same rate in summer as in winter, which contradicts the common idea that nails grow faster in warm weather. However, Bean remarked that he had spent much of the past 20 winters in well-heated buildings.

His summers of extensive travel, which meant changes in diet, had no discernable effect on growth rate. Nor did periods of brisk exercise when compared to the periods when his exercise was less brisk.

In 1950 there was a sudden slowing of growth which amounted to a temporary stoppage. It occurred while Bean had mumps.

Since then, he said, "I had no infection nor illness of sufficient importance to allow me to miss work," and so he had no opportunity to confirm this suggesttion that an illness may be reflected in nail growth rate.

He measured the daily growth rate of his left thumbnail in millimeters. (A millimeter is .03937 inch.) When he was 32 the average daily rate was 0.123 millimeter. When he was 42 it had slowed to 0.111 mm., and at 52 it was down to 0.105 mm. The sharp decline began at the age of 49 and seems to be continuing," he said.

Doctor Watches As His Thumbnail Ages

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Just how firm a foundation underlies the current business pickup should be much clearer before May is over.

Two of the biggest uncertainties today are labor relations in the steel industry and the chances for tax cuts this year.

Both influence much of the recent gains in manufacturers' new orders and industrial production.

Both could be out of the guessing stage at least and into the open before the month's end, even if neither is resolved till late in the summer.

The threat of a strike is boosting steel orders, and, to that extent, putting the industrial picture out of focus. The issues involved between the United Steelworkers Union and management—once they take form—could influence much of the labor-management pattern in many other industries for the rest of the year.

Some fear 1963 will see a basic showdown on such issues as job security and automation.

The promise of tax cuts is influencing much consumer and business planning. But until the tax pattern takes clearer shape before congressional committee, it is still guesswork, especially as to the timing of any cuts.

And to a degree the two problems are interacting on each other.

The rush of steel ordering which gives industrial production a healthy glow just now has boosted the prospects of higher corporate profits and individual incomes. To that extent it has eased the talk of a possible recession which earlier lay behind much of the push for tax cutting.

At the same time the better profit and income outlook has given the United States Treasury a more optimistic estimate of tax collections, and therefore pared its idea of the size of the next fiscal year's federal deficit if tax rates are cut.

But the promised revision of corporate tax rates, along with already realized relaxation in depreciation allowance rules for tax purposes, improves the profit outlook for business. This in turn whets the appetite of labor for a bigger share of the larger returns.

Many other industries will be watching any reopening of labor contracts with the Steelworkers and especially what form any new demands by the union may take. Steel contracts have set patterns in the past.

And steel price rises have been followed by some increases in other lines. Steel isn't the only industry that feels price rigidity has pinched its profits.

And if prices rise, and if taxes are cut, profits will go higher. And so perhaps will labor's wage and fringe benefit demands.

This month should see some idea of what the Steelworkers will want and their chance of getting it without a strike—and of the likelihood of such demands spreading to other industries.

Young Peanut Vendor Thrives

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP)—A 13-year-old eighth grader who started with 87 cents worth of peanuts now has a thriving business which sometimes brings him $100 a week.

Michael C. Artall began by roasting his nuts in a coffee can over an open fire in his back yard. His first customers were the fishermen who line the many bridges in this area.

Now he has a $225 peanut roaster and buys his nuts in 100-pound sacks. He serves all Navy installations here, has peanut racks in a number of stores and sometimes has two or three boys working for him on commission.

Hard If You Don't Drive Or Drink

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — Mrs. E. H. Warner of Des Moines stopped at a market where she isn't known, to buy some meat. Then she discovered she hadn't enough money in her purse.

He asked for her driver's license; she didn't have one. He asked for her state liquor purchase permit book; she didn't have one.

She observed: "I guess it's very difficult to cash a check if you don't drive or drink."

Dog's License Identifies Boy

He would not tell two people who found him his name. They checked the dog license with the Humane Society, got his parents' home address and policemen took him home.

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va. (AP) —The University of Virginia Daily Cavalier reports in an article on the growth of graduate schools that "75 per cent of the students at the university desire higher education."

This Parakeet Disgraced Self

While 269 other parakeets maintained a dignified — and silent — stance, No. 117 let out a shriek, abandoned his cage, and headed for the rafters.

No. 117 zoomed around, made a turn and lost altitude. Robert Marrs, a bird breeder, reached out with hands cupped and caught 117, like a line drive. Then the show went on.

SCHULZ REALTY," with their principal place of business located at 2042 Fourth Street, San Rafael, Marin County, California, did on the 31st day of March, 1963, dissolve said general partnership by retirement of PAUL MENDELSOHN.

NOTICE IS FURTHER GIVEN that the remaining partner, BORIS D. SHULZ, shall continue to operate said business as an individual proprietor, without interruption under the same firm name and style and at the same location; that after said dissolution, BORIS D. SCHULZ, has no authorization to incur obligations on behalf of PAUL MENDELSOHN.

DATED: April 11, 1963.

/s/ BORIS D. SCHULZ
/s/ PAUL MENDELSOHN

State of California
County of Marin ss.

On this 11th day of April in the year one thousand nine hundred and sixty-three before me, Harold J. Truett, a Notary Public in and for the County of Marin, State of California, residing therein, duly commissioned and sworn, personally appeared BORIS D. SCHULZ and PAUL MENDELSOHN, known to me to be the persons whose names are subscribed to the within instrument, and acknowledged to me that they executed the same.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF I have hereunto set my hand and affixed my official seal in the County of Marin the day and year in this certificate first above written.

(SEAL)

FRANK HOWARD ALLEN & SON
SINCE 1910

Tree-Shaded Patios $32,500
The grounds surrounding this comfortable four-bedroom home are exquisite: spreading trees, ornamental planting, pretty paths, cabana, patios, hot-house. The house has 2 baths, dining room, utility room, old-fashioned kitchen, inviting entrance hall. Immaculate throughout, secluded. San Anselmo.

Bright and Shining $33,750
Brand new home, with decorator touches that make it especially attractive: handsome vinyl floor coverings in baths and kitchen; smart red-and-white powder room; amber glass between living room and dining room; extra-wide windowed hall on bedroom level; private tree-shaded sundeck off the master bedroom; deck outside living and dining rooms; beautiful electric kitchen. Lovely hillside home with a marvelous view. Convenient San Rafael location.

Sun-warmed Terrace $34,500
A covered terrace runs the length of this almost-new home, provides hours of pleasant outdoor living, with a valley and hill view; 3 bedrooms, 2 tile baths, separate dining room, large living room out of traffic pattern; delightful electric kitchen with breakfast area. Fenced level play yard, lawn. San Rafael.

An Invitation

Waterfowl paintings by James March Phillips are on exhibit in Frank Howard Allen's Mill Valley Office: 535 Miller Avenue. The public is invited to visit the exhibit and sale, which has been extended into May, and benefits the Audubon Society Canyon Ranch.

Charming $44,000
Good taste has dictated the appointments and entire appearance of this quality Greenbrae home. Pleasant reception hall, formal dining room, large breakfast area, laundry room off the electric kitchen; beautifully landscaped, large deck. Three bedrooms, 2 baths.

Inverness—Four Acres $46,000

Handsome Home $48,500
Beautifully situated under wide oak trees; large lawn, patio and garden space all around, private and secluded. Three bedrooms, 2½ baths, formal dining room, electric kitchen, breakfast area. The living room has a high vaulted ceiling and one of the most startlingly beautiful views of Mt. Tam that you could ever find. Expandable area below. Kent Woodlands.

An Acre, Four Bedrooms $49,500
Children's paradise: an acre to play in, trees to climb, fenced tanbark play yard, huge square footage in fenced deck, just outside the large family room; 4 bedrooms, 3 baths, utility room (or den); compact convenient kitchen, professional landscaping, marvelous view, handsome contemporary home. Lola Montes Is Signed By Music Chest

Lola Montes and her Spanish Dancers, perennial favorites with Marin Music Chest concert goers, have been signed to close the Music Chest's summer series on Sept. 15, Mrs. Samuel Archibald, president, announced today.

As customary, the Montes production will be staged at night, being scheduled for 8:30 p.m. in Forest Meadows of Dominican College, San Rafael.

The season will open June 23 at 3 p.m. with a recital by soprano Dorothy Warenskjold. On July 28 at the same time, baritone Igor Gorin will be heard. On Aug. 25, also at 3 p.m., Jose and Amparo Iturbi, brother and sister who are both famed pianists, will give a joint recital. All performances are at Forest Meadows.

Closing date of the Music Chest's subscription drive has been extended to May 15. Subscriptions are available at Hoy's music stores in San Rafael and San Anselmo, John Barry Insurance in Larkspur, Hettrich Realty in Sausalito, and from the following chairmen in San Rafael: Mrs. Earl Pennington, Mrs. George Alpers, Mrs. Raymond Thayer, Mrs. Neil C. O. Brogger, Mrs. James McFarlane, Mrs. Hugh Petterson, Mrs. S. H. Diehl, Mrs. Harrison Wheeler, Mrs. Matthew Hosmen, Mrs. Harold Elliott, Mrs. Chris Madera, and Mrs. Ragnar Thaning.

College Spring Formal

The College of Marin Spring Formal, a dinner dance entitled "La Musica Del Mar," will be held May 24 from 8 p.m. to 2 a.m. at Dominic's Harbor Restaurant, San Rafael, Thomas Rigby, chairman, announced today.

Los Angeles Chamber Hits Pollution Measure

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce has branded proposed federal legislation creating an agency to control air polution "unnecessary" and a potential danger to local initiative.

The House measure would establish a fund of 30 million dollars to be used as grants for the support of local air pollution control agencies and authorizes the Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare to investigate local problems and prescribe remedies.

COME ON UP, THE VIEW IS FINE, RANGERS SAY

If you can't hike 50 miles, try two and one-half and become a charter member of the Barnaby Boosters Club, say rangers at Samuel P. Taylor State Park.

A two and one-half mile trail through the park leads to the top of Mount Barnaby, named after one of S. P. Taylor's mules, and a view ranging from Tomales Bay to Mount Diablo, says Neil F. Power, park supervisor.

Hikers who follow the wild flower banked fire road to the top of the 1,468 foot peak may sign their names in a newly installed signature book and thus become members of the new Barnaby Booster Club, Power said.

East Blithedale Extension 'Favored'

Mill Valley planning commissioners Tuesday night received favorably a recommendation of City Engineer Stanley M. Bala for East Blithedale Avenue extension to be made four lanes from Camino Alto to Highway 101 along its present alignment. It is now two lanes.

Bala requested comments from interested persons to be received by him by Monday, after which he will ask the planning commission to set a public hearing.

The roadway, to be in four 12-foot lanes, would have four fully-controlled intersections—Kipling and Lomita drives and Ashford Avenue and Camino Alto. Cost is undetermined now, Bala said. Pedestrian traffic, which he said is "of great importance," is to be resolved.

Bala also suggested an alternate route to consist of two one-way lanes eastbound on East Blithedale and two lanes westbound on Ashford Avenue and Lomita Drive.

He recommends existing alignment, however, mainly because it will give maximum ultimate traffic capacity even though the cost is slightly higher.

Commissioners agreed at their "workshop session" that density requirements, as set forth in the North Ridge master plan, should be .86 of a dwelling unit per acre.

City Planning Consultant John D. Erickson is making a study of a segment of the North Ridge area to see what development would result from planned residential zoning and will report May 28. At that time the commission, depending on Erickson's findings, may ask for planned residential or else zone as to standard, specific lot sizes, Commissioner Rodric L. Robinson reported.

The North Ridge area is now frozen in an interim zoning ranging in lots from 20,000 to 100,000 square feet in size.

Redwood High Car Club Is Planning Auto Show

Redwood High School's Car Club will host its first annual Auto Show May 18 in the covered eating area of the school.

Five trophies will be awarded for best in show, grand touring, modified, sport, and stock cars. Also on exhibition will be high performance Chevrolets, Fords, and Pontiacs.

Training Conference

An annual training conference for the California Assn. of County Service Officers will begin at 10 a.m. Tuesday and run through May 10, according to James V. Burdick, Marin County service officer. The conference will be held at Del Webb's Townehouse, San Francisco.
